Tornadoes, Snow, Rain, Winds, Hail Hit Texas Areas

By The Associated Press

A pre-Easter snowstorm whipped across the eastern Rockies into the midwest today after kicking up a rash of violent weather in sections of the plains and Mississippi valley.

The year's worst snowstorm which hammered the eastern slopes of the Rockies left drifts waist-high in parts of Colorado, Wyoming and western Nebraska. Snow depths were more than a foot in many places. Denver sloshed through a foot of fresh snow. It was not spring time in the Rockies.

The early spring storm, abating in the Rockies, didn't lose much of its fury as it swept eastward, powered by strong northerly winds.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota. Lighter amounts were in prospect in northern sections of Wisconsin and Michigan and parts of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Texas Hard Hit

Texas staggered from an outbreak of wild weather. Tornadoes, snow, hail, rain and strong winds lashed the Lone Star State yesterday. Freezing weather followed the snow in the panhandle region. The tornadoes caused some property damage and injured one person.

In the western sections of the snow belt, many roads were impassable. One death was attributed to the storm in Colorado. Hundreds of autos were abandoned as motorists found shelter in motels. Bus travel was halted at Denver and Cheyenne, Wyo. Schools closed in many areas of Colorado and Wyoming.

At Ogallala, Neb., students from rural areas spent the night in the city's school when

Change Stand On Salaries Of Justices

Madison — The senate changed position today and adopted a resolution empowering the legislature to raise salaries of supreme court justices and other state officials serving terms of four or more years while those officials are in office.

Legislators are excluded from the measure which was introduced primarily to alleviate what the legislature's joint judiciary committee calls wage inequities.

Adoption came on a motion to reconsider an earlier vote that killed the proposal. The final vote was 18-14.

At present justices receive different salaries because state law prohibits the legislature from increasing a justice's salary during his term in office.

Salaries Vary

Sen. Robert Knowles R-New Richmond said that Justice Timothy Brown, on the bench since September, 1949, receives $12,000 per year, while Justice William Dieterich, the most recently elected justice, gets $17,500.

Chief Justice John E. Martin, on the bench since 1948, is supposed to receive $500 more for being chief justice, but his present salary is $14,500, Knowles said.

By voice vote, the senate killed a bill by Sen. William Trinke, R-Lake Geneva, which would have given local units of government control over budgets of vocational and adult education schools.

Ivanic Sent to Waupun Prison In Holdup Killing

Kenosha — Ivo Ivanic, a Yugoslavian refugee and Great Lakes merchant seaman, today was sentenced to a Waupun State prison term of not more than 45 years for the holdup slaying of Kenosha restaurant-tavern operator Arthur D. Molinaro.

Ivanic, who originally had pleaded innocent to first degree murder, pleaded guilty today to an amended charge of third degree murder—a killing during the commission of a felony.

Jobless Pay Extension Approved in Senate

Program Prolonged to June 30 but Affects Unemployed Before April 1

Washington — Beneficiaries of the temporary federal jobless pay program who become unemployed before April 1 were assured today their checks would not be cut off on that date.

Congress last night sent to President Eisenhower a bill extending the program to June 30 but limiting it to persons who become jobless before April 1.

Eisenhower is expected to sign it soon; his administration endorsed the measure last week in hearings before the senate finance committee.

It is estimated to benefit about 405,000 persons at a cost of 78 million dollars.

Its passage yesterday followed some fast footwork by congress members anxious to get away for an Easter vacation officially starting today.

At one point the senate voted 52-32 to broaden the extension to permit persons made jobless between April 1 and June 30 to draw benefits. (Sen. Proxmire voted with the majority; Sen. Wiley opposed the extension).

The house refused to go

tween representatives of the two branches.

The house then re-passed the tapering-off bill in almost the same form in which it originally cleared that body, and the senate went along. Without the agreement, the program would have expired automatically next Tuesday.

In its debate on the house bill, the senate first rejected 49-38 a proposal of Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich) and others for a 15-month extension of the program with liberalized provisions.

Then a freshman senator, Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn), offered his proposal for a straight three-month extension, applying both to those already drawing benefits and to those who might qualify after April 1. The senate passed it 52-32.

Along with this at a quickly assembled conference be-

Plush Gambling Joint Raided; 45 Arrested

Piermont, N.Y. — State and local officers broke down guarded doors and seized 45 well-heeled men in a raid on a plush gambling parlor last night.

Some of the men were playing cards. Others were just loitering in easy chairs as the raiders burst in.

A catering firm with portable stoves was serving steaks, chops, salads and other food.

Wads of more than $2,000 were found on a number of the men.

There was no sign of liquor around the layout.

There was a guard outside the place, and a buzzer system was used to gain admittance.

Several expensive cars were parked outside.

A agent of the state investigation commission, which was in on the raid, called it "very important."

West Agrees Conditionally To Summit Talks on Berlin

Liner Crashes Into Tanker; 1 Dead, 3 Missing, 16 Hurt

Cruise Vessel's Bow Strikes Other Ship's Engine Room Area

New York — Homeward bound after a pleasure cruise in the Caribbean, the luxury liner Santa Rosa rammed a tanker at 3 a. m. today some 22 miles east of Atlantic City, N. J. One tanker crewman was killed, three were missing and 16 were injured.

Nobody was hurt on the Santa Rosa, which had been due to dock in New York this morning with its 247 passengers.

A fire broke out in a forward paint room of the $25 million Santa Rosa and was not put out for several hours.

The thundering crash brought a rude jolt for the sleeping vacationers aboard the cruise ship, and touched off a race of other vessels to the scene.

The Santa Rosa's prow knifed half through the stern section of the tanker and disabled its engines. For some 2 1/2 hours, the ships were kept wedged together until their captains decided there would be no danger of sinking if they pulled apart.

Awaits Tugs

When the Santa Rosa backed away, its damaged bow struck the smokstack of the Valchem, sitting jauntily up-

The tanker stood by to await the arrival of tugboats for towing to port. The liner got under way for New York, about 75 miles away.

Seventeen members of the Valchem crew were transferred to the Santa Rosa. Of these, three were to be hospitalized in New York, 13 were treated for minor injuries and one was uninjured. An eighteenth tanker crewman was taken by helicopter to Atlantic City, the famed seashore resort, but was dead on arrival.

The Valchem had been heading for southern ports carrying only ballast. Had it been loaded with fuel a sea disaster might have resulted.

Circumstances which led to the collision were not immediately pinpointed. Weather on the ocean was believed to have been clear, though with a slight haze and a slight wind.

The coast guard ordered an investigation. First word came from the Santa Rosa in a radio message at 3:15 a. m.:

"Collision with tanker. No distress."

Later reporters reiterated that there was no particular emergency, although the coast guard said the 10,416-ton Valchem was disabled.

The name of the dead tanker crewman was not learned immediately. He was said to have died of burns. His fellow

Official Loses County Post

Fond du Lac Man Held Ineligible as Register of Deeds

Fond du Lac — Circuit Judge Russell E. Hanson today declared 84-year-old John G. Brunkhorst ineligible to serve as Fond du Lac county register of deeds and recognized Joseph Krenn as the legal incumbent.

Although Brunkhorst, long-time Republican officeholder was reelected last November, the county board soon thereafter found that he was unable to perform the duties of his office. The board vacated the office and Gov. Gaylord Nelson on Feb. 27 named Krenn to the post. A Democrat, the 28-year-old Krenn had been an unsuccessful candidate against Brunkhorst.

Brunkhorst instituted proceedings in circuit court challenging Krenn's right to hold the office and asking the court to order the county board to reinstate him.

Judge Hanson refused and upheld the board's right to remove him. He said Brunkhorst elected to come under the provisions of the State Retirement Fund in 1946.

Since Brunkhorst was over 65 years of age, he continued to hold office only because the county board from year to year certified to the state that it wished to continue to employ him, Judge Hanson said.

GOP Might Boom Davis For Governor

Friends Say He's Made No Response To Suggestions

By JOHN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Early movers among organization Republicans are talking about creating a boom on behalf of Glenn R. Davis, former Waukesha congressman and twice a candidate for U. S. senator, for the 1960 governor race.

Friends of Davis report he has made no specific response to such suggestions, but that he is not discouraging them.

Major Speech?

There is an impression that Davis' selection last week as the principal speaker at a Republican ceremony at Ripon in connection with an historical observance of the party's centennial was part of the plan to promote the 45-year-old veteran of state politics for the top place on the party's ticket a year from now.

Davis is one of the state's best known and most vigorous campaigners. He served 10 years as a congressman, until the 1956 Republican state convention drafted him as a candidate against Sen. Alexander Wiley in a primary election. Davis lost in a narrow squeeze, then lost again in 1957 in the Republican primary to Walter Kohler in connection with the special sena-

Chitose, Japan — Japan's air force today carried out its first combat mission since World War II—against invading walrus.

There were no confirmed kills.

French Make Attendance Conditional on Progress By Foreign Ministers

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington — (AP) — The western Big Three agreed conditionally today to a summit meeting with Russia on the Berlin issue and other great problems. They differed materially in the emphasis they placed on the conditions.

A U. S. note to Russia said this country is prepared for a meeting of heads of state "on the understanding" that a prior meeting of foreign ministers at least narrows differences and prepares "constructive proposals."

The British note to the Kremlin took a considerably more positive approach. It said the British would be glad to go to the summit "as soon as developments in the foreign ministers meeting warrant." It spoke of a summit meeting this summer whereas the U. S. note only spoke of such a conference as soon as the foreign ministers' action might "justify" it.

The French language concerning conditions was still stiffer than that of the United States.

President Charles de Gaulle, in his note to Moscow, made his attendance hinge on whether the foreign ministers meeting "permits the envisagement of genuine progress" at the top. The French spoke only of a summit session "at an appropriate time" instead of mentioning this summer.

Topics Not Limited

All three of the western notes reserved the right of all participants to bring up whatever subjects they choose.

That is in contrast to the Russian idea of confining the talks solely to Berlin and a German peace treaty. In a March 2 note the Kremlin proposed that the foreign ministers meeting, at least, be held exclusively to those subjects.

U. S. officials said that in spite of the differences in wording they considered the western notes to say substantially the same thing to the Russians.

Conferences Indicated

The western powers proposed that the foreign ministers meeting start in Geneva May 11 "to consider questions relating to Germany, including a peace treaty with Germany and the question of Berlin."

From there on, they went into their divergent approaches to the summit session.

Despite the variations of emphasis the new western

Higher School Aid Bill Wins Backing

Wisconsin Educators Behind Plan To Provide Additional $20 Million

Madison — A bill that would increase state aids to schools nearly $20 million over the next two years received the wholehearted backing of Wisconsin educators Wednesday.

Nearly 25 school board officials, administrators and teachers spoke in support of the bill at a public hearing of the assembly education committee. The session was held in the assembly chamber to accommodate an overflow crowd of nearly 150 persons.

Assemblyman Walter Calvert, R-Benton, co-author of the measure, said the proposal would boost the state's share of school supports from 20 to 26 per cent.

John Thorne, New London, representing the Waupaca County Taxpayers association, opposed the bill because it did not guarantee that "we are going to get better education."

A spokesman for the Jefferson County Taxpayers Association, Ray Swisher of Fort Atkinson, said the state will have to increase corporate taxes to finance higher support costs, thus discouraging industry from locating in the state.

Back The Bill
"Maybe we aren't buying what we think we are with our educational dollar," he said.

Others backing the bill were representatives of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities, Wisconsin Towns Association, and the Wisconsin Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The committee also held a hearing on a bill that would increase tuition $50 annually for out-of-state students attending the University of Wisconsin.

The measure, co-sponsored by Assemblyman George Belting, R-Beloit, would set non-resident tuition at $400 a year. Belting said the increase is needed because the "cost of non-resident education has failed to keep pace with the rise in the cost to taxpayers."

Reject PSC Chairman

Nelson Appointee Turned Down by Republican Vote

Madison — A senate committee recommended rejection of Gov. Gaylord Nelson's appointment of Milwaukee Ald. Matt Schimenz as chairman of the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

The action reflected a straight party vote of the Republican-controlled senate labor, taxation, insurance and banking committee.

Chairman William F. Trinke, Lake Geneva, A. A. Laun, Jr., Kiel, and Robert Knowles, New Richmond, all Republicans, voted against Schimenz. Democrats Horace Wilkie, Madison, and William Moser, Milwaukee, cast ballots for him.

"The testimony given in behalf of Ald. Matthias Schimenz convinces me that he is honest and able, and has made an invaluable servant to the city of Milwaukee," Trinke said in a statement.

Schimenz was named to succeed Chairman George Steinmetz, a former chief engineer of the PSC.

Flag Raising Set For Alaska July 4

Sitka, Alaska — Sitka's Castle Hill, one of this huge state's most historic spots, will again become the scene of a history-making event July 4.

It was on Castle hill on Oct. 18, 1867, that Russia formally signed over to the United States the vast, unexplored Territory of Alaska for $7 million.

Next July 4, state officials said yesterday, the first 49-star flag to be raised in this newest state in the Union will be raised on Castle hill.

Truman's Birthplace Dedication April 19

Kansas City — The frame house in which former President Harry Truman was born will be dedicated April 19 as a public memorial.

The house is at Lamar, near here. It was purchased several years ago by the United Auto Workers union, which will turn it over at the dedication ceremony to the Missouri Park board.

Truman will attend the ceremony, set for 4 p. m., the approximate hour of his birth. He will be 75 years old May 8.

Mediators to Enter Strike

Hope to Bring End To Dispute at Allis-Chalmers Firm

Milwaukee — Citing the economic and defense program impact of the Allis-Chalmers strike, the federal mediation and conciliation service has offered its assistance and it was quickly accepted by the heavy machinery firm and striking United Auto Workers Union members.

The first meeting with the service was set for today. Charles H. Alsip of Chicago, regional director of the service, offered Wednesday to send federal mediators. Both promptly accepted.

Impact on Economy
Alsip, in a telegram, said he would like to set up the meeting because the strike, which started Feb. 2, "is causing serious impact on the national economy as well as impairing the national defense program." He said the conference will be "in accordance with the agreed upon procedures."

This was believed to have been a reference to the arrangement set up by the company and the union under which they resumed negotiations on their own March 7 to negotiate some issues on a central basis and others on the local plant level. The dispute idled 14,000 workers.

The service tried to work out negotiation procedures for the company and union shortly after the strike began but gave up after four futile conciliation sessions.

House Queries Surplus Windfalls

Washington — Some private traders have reaped windfall profits, house investigators contend, by buying government-owned surplus farm goods and reselling them to the government's Foreign Aid agency.

James R. Naughton, counsel for a house government operations subcommittee, reported this yesterday at a hearing on transactions of the Commodity Credit Corporation, an agriculture department agency which handles farm surplus.

Naughton cited an example involving five million pounds of dried milk for Bolivia. Private traders, he said, bought it from the CCC for 9.9 cents a pound and immediately resold it to the International Co-operative administration, the foreign aid agency, for 11.9 cents. Profit: $99,000.

Legislative Triumphs

Rockefeller Looking More Like Candidate

BY CHARLES DUMAS

Albany, N. Y. — Nelson Rockefeller sailed through his first legislative session as governor of New York state to five April 1, and imposed looking more than ever like a potential candidate for president.

After a slow start, he wound up with a glittering array of legislation—some of it with national overtones—that would look good in any White House hopeful's show case.

And he showed that, when the going got rough, he could fight back—to win. The Empire state's legislature formally adjourned early today and the dominant feature of Rockefeller's first 84 spending too freely. Rockefeller days in office was the "battered" budget.

Tax Increases
The youthful-looking Republican millionaire barely had and welfare programs that settled himself in the governor's chair when he ran hip-deep into trouble by submitting the first $2 billion budget in the state's history and calling for the greatest round of tax increases the state had ever seen.

Rockefeller called for tax increases that: Raised the state's gasoline tax from four cents a gallon to six cents and the diesel fuel

With the Approach of Warm weather and a desire to get his recently completed boat into the water, Stewart Thomas, Quincy, Ill., hired this crane to remove the boat from his attic where he built the 18-foot craft. He had to remove a window and portions of a wall.

Man Cheats Death in Series of Mine Blasts

Warns Off Companion; Lives Through Ten Explosions in Underground Tunnel

Los Angeles — A gold miner lay helpless in a death valley tunnel, hearing the fuses for 18 sticks of dynamite hiss a song of destruction.

Frank Rasmussen, 35, could only wait. His right leg was shattered from a premature blast and gushing blood. Even his helmet was gone.

As he waited for the remaining charges to blast him into eternity, he gasped a prayer and buried his head under his arms.

Then he heard his alarmed partner, Harry Boyer, starting into the shaft from 18 feet above to see what was wrong.

Don't Come In! Rasmussen shouted. "No use both of us dying!"

Moments earlier he had lighted the 40-inch fuses to 10

Nelson Asks Tightening Of Traffic Enforcement
Milwaukee — Gov. Gaylord A. Nelson said Wednesday night Wisconsin should tighten its traffic law enforcement and be more strict in licensing drivers.

Nelson, addressing the Milwaukee Foreman's Safety school, said the state should not feel that everyone who wants to drive should be awarded the privilege.

two-stick charges, spaced across the end of the tunnel wall. Ordinarily he'd have had two or three minutes, after lighting the first one to get out. But something went wrong this time. A faulty fuse.

Wham! With each blast two sticks of dynamite went off. Rocks and dirt flew. The noise was deafening; the concussion terrific.

Rasmussen counted the explosions. One, two, three—spaced several seconds apart. They were all there. Ten in all, counting the first one which had slammed him against the opposite wall 10 feet away.

As the last echoes died away Boyer charged into the shaft. He knew what to expect. But he was mistaken.

All he could see of his comrade was "a shoulder sticking out of the debris. Boyer grabbed it and pulled Rasmussen's head free.

"What should I do?" Boyer asked.

Should Have Died
"Get me out of here," answered the man who should have been dead.

Boyer tied a rope tightly around Rasmussen's leg, to stop the pouring blood. Then the husky Boyer packed the injured man up a ladder and drove him to the nearby village of Skidoo.

Last night Rasmussen, from his hospital bed here, told the story. In traction with a leg broken in two places, he was waiting for x-rays to show how badly his back was injured.

How did he feel last Sunday when he knew the blasts were about to start?

"I figured I was a goner sure."

Rasmussen was conscious all the way. Each succeeding jolt did nothing to make him feel better.

"It felt like it lifted you right off the ground each time," he said.

Milwaukee Man Hurt
Milwaukee — Earl Ruehl, 49, an employee of a steel tank company, was killed Wednesday when he was crushed by an air-operated lift used to hoist tanks onto a conveyor belt at the plant.

Dummy Space Capsule Recovered Intact, U. S. Scientists Say

Cone-Like Vehicles Type Which May Carry Spacemen Into Orbit

Washington — A dummy space capsule the size of those that someday may carry American spacemen into orbit have been dropped into the ocean from high-flying planes and recovered intact, scientists reported today.

The tapered, cone-like capsules weighed more than a ton.

After they dropped in free fall for set distances, parachutes opened to slow the capsules' descent as they plummeted toward their ocean impact.

Such a resounding ocean impact splash may be the final tipoff to future spacemen that they're back to earth again.

Next step in the space research program: Development of materials to absorb the shock of landings on ground.

Significant Progress
The national aeronautics and space administration today reported significant progress in four general areas—air drops, escape techniques, impact tests, and wind tunnel and flight studies of model capsules.

The early research is part of project Mercury, the program to place a man in orbit around the earth. So far, its research has provided valuable information toward developing a safe and reliable manned satellite capsule, NASA said.

Two other highlights of the progress report were: Space scientists have been experimenting at Wallops Island, Va., on the firing of escape rockets that would permit a man to get out of a capsule high enough in the air for a parachute to open—if trouble should develop soon after launching.

Space Capsule
Wind tunnel tests are planned of a space capsule on top of a Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

Small Fire Hits Madison Hotel
Madison — A grease fire in the kitchen of the Park hotel on Capitol square early today routed more than 75 guests. Another 75 guests were allowed to remain in their rooms.

There were no injuries and firemen had the fire under control within an hour. Damage was confined to the kitchen, roof and an outside wall. The main part of the building was not damaged and guests were permitted to return to their rooms.

Unincorporated Unions Not Responsible for Paying Back Wages
Milwaukee — Circuit Judge Robert C. Cannon ruled Wednesday that a member may not sue his unincorporated labor union for damages even if the union failed to try to get the worker reinstated to his job.

Michael Fray, a member of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of America sued the union for $14,000, claiming it was the union's duty to protect his rights after he was discharged from his job at a dressed beef company.

Judge Cannon held that Fray had no basis for legal action because an unincorporated union is a voluntary association and a member who sues it would in effect be suing himself.

Will Leaves $150,000 for Grave Care

Viroqua — A hearing has been ordered on the objections of relatives contesting the will of a 94-year-old banker who directed that most of his estate, valued at between $150,000 and $200,000 be spent for the upkeep of his grave.

Vernon county Judge Martin Gulbrandsen set the hearing for April 8 on the will of Alhambra Cowan of LaFarge who died last November. Cowan, for many years head of the LaFarge bank had no children. His wife died in 1940.

Cowan made one specific bequest of $5,000 to one of his six living nephews and nieces — Alex Cowan and the latter's wife, Martha. There were several other small specific bequests.

The residue, however, would go into a trust fund, the income of which to be used for the upkeep of Cowan's grave. One stipulation was that fresh cut flowers be placed on the grave every week.

Several nephews and nieces objected to the will.

On the House Useless, Worthless Statements Bring Immortality to Figures

There is a thing to do if you seek undying fame or notoriety—say something. It need not be a quotation of value, in order to be quoted into perpetuity, you must offer up words which are either (1) trite (2) easy to remember (3) foolish or (4) maddening.

Hardly anyone remembers much about Horace Greeley except that he is credited with saying "Go west, young man."

Yet Greeley, who died in 1872, was—in words of today a heck of a guy. Besides being a great newspaperman and editor of the powerful New York Tribune, he was largely responsible for securing the nomination of Abraham Lincoln and in the formation of the Republican Party.

Himself a presidential nominee in 1872, he came close to winning the election from General Grant.

But all that is remembered of him, popularly, is "Go West, young man."

I regret the necessity to proclaim that he did not make the statement by which he is best remembered. What he did say approximated that precise statement which was made, however, by John Soule in 1851.

Greeley's statement was this:

Umpire for many years, offered a rash statement to the winds and he was never permitted to forget it, nor will the sporting public.

"I never called one wrong," said Klem. Now, it is a certainty that Klem will be forgotten in the coming years, and will be recalled only as a consequence of his announcement. It will be discussed for years and years and years wherever umpires gather—which is probably a rather good secret.

Willie Keeler, a baseball player of note, has been virtually forgotten. But, one warm day, Keeler explained to a sports writer the whole secret of effective stickmanship. "Hit 'em where they ain't," he said—and the nation will remember and quote this statement long after time has erased the message on his tombstone.

Joe Jacobs, a boxing manager of note maintained a position of prominence in the sporting world. Undeniably, he said many things—some wise, some foolish, some beautiful and worthy of lasting. But the world will remember only his one statement when he attended a baseball game on a very cold, very miserable day.

Consider, too, a statement by Charles E. Stanton, a notable officer of the A. E. F. during Big Tiff I. He wrote much and spoke publicly with frequency and skill, yet he is remembered for but one quotation which seems less than powerful.

"LaFayette, he said, 'We are here.'"

Consider, too, Sir Henry Morton Stanley. He was one of the most famous peripatetic newsmen who ever lived. Stanley accomplished more in geographical discoveries than any African explorer in history up to his time. A prolific author and an able newspaperman who wrote reams of copy which should last through ages to come, he is remembered for only one sentence—a question of no particular euphonic value:

"Dr. Livingstone, I presume?"

Now consider the foregoing statements which achieved some perpetuity for their authors, most of whom deserve to be remembered for much better things:

Go west young man . . . I never called one wrong . . . Hit 'em where they ain't . . . I should of stood in bed . . . We are not amused . . . The old confederence . . . LaFayette, we are here . . . Dr. Livingstone, I presume.

Not one of the utterances contains what makes for greatness and lastingness, but all will be remembered for years to come.

Healthy Outlook Seen For Dairy Industry

But Farmers Still Face Many Problems, USDA Official Tells ASC Committeemen

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Dairy farmers and the dairy industry, a high government official declared here Wednesday, are in better shape than a year ago.

"The situation is quite contrary to what some of the demagogues had been saying would happen," asserted Marvin L. McLain, assistant secretary of agriculture.

He didn't say dairy farmers are out of the woods. But he said a marked decline in the price support and other pro-cow population and a slight decrease in national milk production last year have created a decidedly healthy outlook for the industry.

Brightest Spot

"The brightest spot is that cheese consumption has gone up tremendously," the assistant secretary pointed out.

McLain addressed an area of these programs and be-conference of Agricultural cause they have not been getting the job done, we have committees. The meeting asked for major changes in drew more than 200 staff men our farm programs for the last six years, but with only minor success with congress. Much is being accomplished, however, according to McLain.

Lower price supports on dairy products ordered last year are beginning to solve the costly surplus problem. For example, farmers' income set a new gross and per capita income milk record in 1958, but that gain was more than offset by reductions in areas where dairying is a nominal industry.

Real Mess

"We are in a real mess with wheat," McLain mentioned. There's a year and a half surplus of wheat in storage and another bumper crop is predicted.

"Because of some of our price support and other programs, our surplus continues to pile up. It soon will be back to $9 billion again," McLain foretold, "in spite of heavy exports and our soil bank program."

People blame his boss, Ezra Taft Benson, but McLain de-pup-tremendously," the assistant secretary pointed out.

"Because of the heavy costs of these programs and be-conference of Agricultural cause they have not been getting the job done, we have committees. The meeting asked for major changes in drew more than 200 staff men our farm programs for the last six years, but with only minor success with congress. Much is being accomplished, however, according to McLain.

Lower price supports on dairy products ordered last year are beginning to solve the costly surplus problem. For example, farmers' income set a new gross and per capita income were at the highest levels in history last year. Realized net farm income was up over $2 billion dollars of 20 per cent above 1957.

"The standard of living on farms is the highest on record," he continued. "Farm ownership is at a record high, farm land values are at a record high and farm foreclosures are extremely low."

McLain pointed to some of the basic faults with the farm economy. One of the biggest concerns the inflated prices that farmers have to pay for the things they buy as compared with the things they sell.

He's no foe of labor, McLain asserted, but labor had better do some soul-searching.

"It is high time that labor recognize we're headed in the direction of pricing our products out of our own domestic markets, let alone the foreign market," McLain challenged.

The nation's economy simply can't go on forever paying labor more money for less work, he asserted. Wages, he said, should be scaled in terms of production.

Mayoralty Candidate On Penny Campaign

Sand Springs, Okla. — A candidate for mayor, Hugh Bryant, has a novel way of campaigning.

He watches for cars parked at meters that have run out of time and drops in a few pennies.

Then he explains in a printed note what he did, also getting in a plug for himself in the message.

Queen Victoria, a lady of fascinating qualities, is most often quoted with the words she used when she saw one of her grooms-in-waiting imitating her. Her words were: "We are not amused."

It is almost fantastic that this noble woman who wore her crown for 63 years with honor and virtue should be remembered best by an off-hand statement of disapproval.

There are many examples of 1-statement fame, both in material history and in sports.

Average Forgotten

Jesse (Crab) Burnett uttered an illiterate truism which will be remembered long after his batting average is forgotten, which it is. He was once asked what it is which makes a baseball player a good baseball player. Said he: "The old confidence."

Burnett would scarcely be remembered were it not for that statement.

Chances for Balanced U. S. Budget Dim

New Estimates of Tax Experts Cast
Substantial Doubt

Washington —(P)— New revenue estimates by congressional tax experts cast substantial doubt today over President Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget next year.

Staff economists of the senate-house committee on internal revenue taxation predicted the government's income would fall more than a billion dollars short of the president's budget expectations.

Their annual estimates, which have been close to the mark in the past, put federal receipts for the year starting July 1 at only $75,800,000,000. Eisenhower had counted on $77,100,000,000 in revenues in submitting his budget to congress last January.

If borne out, the revenue shrinkage itself would knock administration budget calculations into the red without taking into consideration the probability of increased spending by congress. The legislators also have shown no inclination to vote higher gasoline taxes and postal rates which Eisenhower asked as part of his proposal for a balanced budget.

Need For Veto

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the senate finance committee, said even the staff estimate was optimistic.

"The need for the president to veto every bill involving excessive expenditures is crystal clear," Byrd said.

In a further statement prepared for the senate today, Byrd contended that spending by congress already is 12 to 24 per cent in excess of budget requests. He said rejection of administration requests for increases in tax revenues would have further serious effects on the budget for 1960 or immediately succeeding years.

Administration experts said they're sticking with the budget estimates, at least for now.

Storm in Oklahoma

The worst of the twisters which skipped across Texas areas struck Denison, a community of about 1,000 in the north central section, causing widespread damage. Tornado winds lashed areas southwest and south of Denison.

The tornadic winds which hit Texas also struck in nearby Oklahoma. One twister swept the area of Alva, in northern Oklahoma, damaging some homes. No injuries were reported. Heaviest damage from the violent winds in Texas was in Denison, a community of about 1,000 in the north central section. One woman was injured. Tornado-force winds also lashed areas southwest and south of Denison.

Hail, rain and snow pelted Amarillo in north Texas. Two inches of snow covered the ground at Texline and snow continued at Dalhart. Hailstones one half inch in diameter, nearly one inch of rain and winds up to 70 mph rocked Bridgeport.

The storm, moving southeast across north central Texas, hit parts of Fort Worth and Dallas with rain, hail and strong winds.

Tornadic winds pounded Parsons, in southeast Kansas. More than one inch of rain fell in Kansas City, Mo., the Chanute, Kan., and Macalester, Okla., in a 6-hour period. Colder air draining south-proposals appeared to bring closer the prospect of a conference of President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, and President de Gaulle with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The American note was released here, and the British and French communications in Paris and London, after their delivery to the Soviet foreign office.

In general, they all followed the line of a formula worked out by Eisenhower and Macmillan at their Camp David meeting last week.

That plan calls for dealing with the Berlin crisis through diplomatic negotiations aiming toward one or more summit meetings.

"The purpose of the foreign ministers meeting," the U. S. note said, "should be to reach positive agreements (on German issues) over as wide a field as possible, and in any case to narrow the differences between the respective points of view and to prepare constructive proposals for consideration by a conference of heads of government later in the summer."

"On this understanding and as soon as developments in the foreign ministers meeting justify holding a summit conference, the United States government would be ready to participate in such a conference."

Provided in Formula

"The date, place and agenda for such a conference would be proposed by the meeting of foreign ministers."

That 3-point proposal was the heart of the Eisenhower-Macmillan formula which in substance was approved later by De Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

It was clear from the wording that, as Eisenhower told a news conference yesterday, there is no automatic commitment to hold a summit meeting this summer. The decision ward behind the storm center dropped temperatures into the 20s and low 30s in the Texas panhandle, western Oklahoma and western Kansas. Readings throughout the snow belt were generally in the 20s.

Outside the major wet belts, there were two other areas of precipitation. Showers sprinkled sections from southern Lake Michigan eastward to the lower Great Lakes and New England. Rain fell across wide areas from northern California along the Pacific coast to Canada.

Skies were mostly clear in other areas west of the Rockies but considerable cloudiness prevailed in the eastern half of the country.

crewmembers were not believed badly hurt.

The 16,000-ton Santa Rosa is a new vessel placed in service by the Grace Line last June, replacing another of the same name.

The paint room fire aboard it was described as "still smoldering" at 6:15 a.m.

An extra supply of chemical fire extinguishers was being flown to the liner by helicopter, via Atlantic City.

The two ships remained joined about 24 hours before the captains decided it was safe to separate them.

The Santa Rosa was damaged above the water line.

The coast guard had a sea-plane surveying the scene and it sent five cutters. The Moran Towing and Transportation company sent two tugs from New York.

The coast guard said the Santa Rosa and the Valchem would proceed to New York under their own power, with a tug escort and coast guard craft standing by to help if needed.

The Santa Rosa had been due to dock here at 8 a.m. today.

The Valchem was en route from New York to the Gulf of Mexico at the time of the collision.

Alaska Pioneers Reach New State

Seattle Creek, Alaska —(P)— "We're in Alaska at last!"

The whispered words of Mrs. Marino Sik, late of Michigan, now of Alaska, curled around the baby she held tightly in her arms yesterday.

The words touched the ears of 37 other modern pioneers clustered about Mrs. Sik, and the Michigan 50 'ers broke out with cheers that danced across the wilderness.

The 50 'ers had 4,500 miles behind them. They had some 500 miles to go to the Kenai peninsula southwest of Anchorage, their "promised land."

The dream of a new life in a new land, a new state, had its inception in the Detroit area months ago. The objectives were clear—homesteads on the Kenai peninsula.

Heated Words Fly Over Bar Probe

Finance Committeemen Clash; Charge Negligence in Story 'Leak'

Madison —(AP)— A Democrat bill to investigate the State Bar of Wisconsin sparked a bitter debate in the Wisconsin legislature Wednesday.

The measure was an outgrowth of a recent petition by two members of the bar for an investigation of Atty. Gen. John Reynolds' declination further to represent the board of state college regents in the Prof. George Ball case. Dr. Ball was fired by Superior State college and in a hearing on his appeal, the state supreme court ordered he be reinstated or given another hearing. Reynolds withdrew when the regents announced they would appeal the ruling. The eruption came late in the day, in the joint finance committee, following a lengthy hearing on a court reorganization bill. Patience obviously had worn thin long before Sen. Leland McParland, D-Cudahy, rose in support of the investigation bill and three other Democrats had introduced.

Not In Spite
"This bill was drawn," said McParland quietly, "not in spite or to get even with anyone."

"It just happens that our boy Reynolds was hit this time," he said, "in the future it could be anyone here. Somewhere along the line, I believe the state bar was negligent in allowing the story to reach the press to a degree that was fraudulent," he said.

"We want to find out if it was politically inspired, and then what can be done to protect a person from things of that kind."

Another co-author of the bill, Sen. James Brennan, D-Milwaukee, said the bar has procedures for accepting petitions and it does not include "leaking misleading information to the press."

Sen. William Trinke, R-Lake Geneva, a committee member, asked Brennan if he thought the request for a probe could properly be placed before the legislature. Brennan replied affirmatively, and when Trinke pursued his questioning, Assemblyman William Ward shouted that Trinke should move into the witnesses' position "if you want to make a statement."

Other Side
Ward is a New Richmond Democrat and co-chairman of the committee with Sen. Allen Busby, R-Milwaukee.

"If you haven't guts enough to stand over on the other side of the table and be counted for or against the bill then keep your mouth shut," Ward shouted. Busby gavelled for order but his call was momentarily unheeded.

"I'm not going to take any advice from you," Trinke retorted as he pushed his way to the front of the committee table.

He then told the committee he had never seen such a "disgraceful thing in all my 12 years in the legislature."

campaign by the Democrats next year.

There has been an assumption that Vernon W. Thomson, defeated last fall by Gov. Gaylord Nelson, may want another nomination but he has said nothing about the matter, even to persons regarded as his closest friends.

There is some speculation that the former governor might step aside, if he is satisfied that there is a strong alternative candidate available.

There has also been some talk of a candidacy by Warren Knowles, New Richmond, former lieutenant governor and legislative leader, and by Paul Rogan, the state insurance commissioner expected to be replaced by Gov. Nelson this year.

Honolulu —(AP)— John Peelua, selected as outstanding young man of the year 1958 for the Hawaiian island of Molokai, will be sentenced April 14 for embezzling $200 from Molokai Community hospital. Peelua, 35, was a bookkeeper at the hospital. He pleaded no contest to the charge Tuesday before Circuit Judge Cable A. Wirtz in Wailuku. Peelua had been indicted on five counts, but County Atty. Harold L. DuPont asked the court to drop four of the counts "because the ends of justice had been served."

near Blue Mound in southwestern Wisconsin.

The money would be spent for purchase of 714 acres. It is planned to have a total park area of 1,700 acres in the hill country of Iowa and western Dane counties.

No one opposed the bill for the appropriation when it came up for a public hearing. The money would be spent over a three year period.

Proxmire May Boost Staff, Drop Part-Time Members

Washington —(AP)— Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) said Tuesday he has 18 full-time and 30 part-time employees on his staff, and is considering letting off the part-time workers and adding a few to his full-time staff.

Proxmire, who has been in the senate about 14 years, said he may have had as many as 60 part-time employees on his office payroll at times last year when he was elected to a full 6-year term. But, he said, none of these did any work for him in his campaign.

Actually, he said, he had temporarily detached two of his regular staffers, Gerald Bruno and Nelda Seer, during the campaign and they were paid during that time by a Proxmire volunteer committee. He said he did not want Bruno, who receives $5,604 a year, and Miss Seer, who receives $2,482 a year, to work for his reelection while they were on his staff.

Base Pay Plus Boosts
Proxmire said that hiring of part-time workers permitted him to turn out much more work and still stay within the base pay allowance of $52,500 a year.

Employees are given a base pay but are automatically given certain increases which vary.

Proxmire said that by employing only full-time workers, using up all of his $52,500 base pay allowance, the total pay for the year would be between $85,000 and $90,000. However, he said, by use of part-time employees and staying within his base pay allowance, he could pay out a total of as much as $130,000 in salaries and thus get more work done. He said, however, his total had not gone that high.

Most of the part-time workers he has employed, Proxmire said, are college students in the Washington area and only a small number have been employed in Wisconsin. He said the part-time workers receive $72.83 a month, or an average of about $2 an hour.

The boy is the son of Mrs. Marvin Hickerson. His mother was shopping at the time of the accident. Gerald's 12-year-old sister, Martha Lee, was caring for him and four other children. She had stepped out of the room and didn't see Gerald climb up to the window.

Free Two Boys Accused of Robbery Attempt

San Francisco —(AP)— Two boys accused of attempted bank robbery stood averted and contrite before juvenile court Judge Melvyn I. Cronin.

He looked sternly at Dan McKay, 9, and Danny Husk, 13 and asked where they got the idea.

"From television," stammered the boys.

Judge Cronin scolded them, lectured the parents and sent them home yesterday. Little Dan and Danny had spent the night in youth guidance center after their arrest Tuesday.

They admitted going to the Bank of America's Mission branch and presenting a note demanding $100 under threat to "blow up the bank." The teller, Miss Filamene Miller, shoed them away and told the manager. He called police, who staked out the boys' homes and arrested them after their circuitous return from a movie.

Little Dan and Danny said they had only wanted to replenish their supply of play money issued by the bank as a promotion.

Polio Could be Stamped Out

It is strange indeed that parents will risk the danger of crippling, and often fatal, infantile paralysis for their children or themselves when it is totally unnecessary. Dr. Norvin Kiefer, chief medical director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, says there are two ways to develop immunity to polio. One way is by contracting the disease and the other is by being vaccinated. He says, "One way is often drastic, sometimes tragic. The other is painless, cheap and safe. Which will you choose for yourself and your family?" No one could put the proposition in plainer terms. Surely the parents have as great a responsibility as do the public health officials to see that their children are vaccinated. But it is not alone the children who neglect this opportunity. There are still 50 million Americans under age 40 who have not completed the Salk anti-polio inoculations. Dr. Kiefer who is directing a nation-wide campaign to bring immunization to these 50 million Americans says, "A discouraging fall-off in the Salk inoculation program following its introduction in 1955 was undoubtedly responsible for the rise in polio cases last year." He adds that, nation-wide, the 1958 polio rate was more than 40 per cent higher than the year before. But that was not due to the failure of Salk vaccine. Medical experts say that very few of the 1958 victims ever received Salk vaccine. Last year's polio outbreaks were among the unvaccinated, says Dr. Kiefer, and he calls upon all people with common sense to protect themselves against this disease. The success of the Salk vaccine brought an almost unbelievable change in attitude in the American people toward polio. With the means at hand to stamp out this disease, in fact offered to the children free of charge in some areas, people have turned away and carelessly neglected to protect themselves and their children although the danger continues to be very real. In this day and age no one need have polio if they do not want it. In the future, with rare exceptions, those who have polio may be credited with having invited it.

Can Respect be Legislated?

A group of people in Milwaukee has organized a Respect Sunday committee to put on a drive for a state law which would prohibit nonessential businesses from opening on Sundays. We are sure this group is well intentioned, and many people will support it in its drive for a new closing law. But isn't this committee misnamed? Can respect be brought about by force or required by legislation? When the stern father orders his children to respect him he may get outward compliance but does he really get respect? Will merchants forced to close by law respect Sunday? Will the customers who wish to make purchases on Sunday really come to respect Sunday or will they merely comply because there is no store open? If this committee really is interested in fostering respect for Sunday, it would do well to direct its energies to teaching respect for Sunday to merchants who keep open on Sunday and to people who shop on Sunday. But the committee's argument in support of its bill indicates that its interest is not solely in promoting respect for Sunday. It wants to solve a problem for "firms not wishing to operate on Sundays, and whose employees feel they don't want to work then" but who are being forced to do so by those who do open on Sundays. Generally speaking it is a good thing for most retail establishments to close on Sunday. Most people are strongly in favor of Sunday closing, and it is a practice probably in the public interest. Most merchants close and most people avoid shopping on Sunday out of respect for that day. Should we compel those who do not respect Sunday to close? Most such compulsory laws quickly fall into disrepute and remain unenforced. This bill will just add another dead law to the statute books and therefore it should be killed.

What Do We Want in a National Flower?

The rose and the corn tassel are still in the running with many supporters for the honor of representing the United States as its national floral emblem. They have strong supporters in the annual debate in the United States Senate on this subject. Only recently the matter came up again for 1959 and not even the lovely blossoms themselves could compare in flowery qualities with the words the senators used to describe them. As might well be expected Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D. Ill.) is tireless in his support for the corn tassel. "Nothing could be more beautiful than a field of corn in full flower," Sen. Douglas said in opening his oration. But from that point on he turned to the great utility of the fruit of the corn, neglecting somewhat the beauty of the tassel. However, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R. Iowa) came to Sen. Douglas' support. He wasted some beautiful thoughts on the carnation which he said has sentimental value "particularly at funerals" and then he turned to the "stability and utility of corn." Sen. Gordon Allott (R. Colo.) has a resolution in the Senate calling for all senators to unite in "amicable compromise" behind the carnation to resolve the issue which is threatening to divide Congress.

Then from the Bluegrass country of Kentucky came Sen. Thurston B. Morton who suggested that if the utility feature of corn is to be considered the Senate would do well to give a thought to grass, just good plain old grass. Grass, he said, had "sustained the buffalo" and he called upon the Senate to consider what would happen to "the patient cattle, the gentle sheep and the loving horse without grass." With this background Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R. New York) suggested that the Senate look into the "historic horticultural fact that the rose had been growing in the United States for millions of years." The rose was doing well in contrast with corn and grass when Sen. Allott came back with the statement that the rose is "a fragile flower suited for female wear but in the carnation we have a flower which may be worn by both men and women with confidence in its ruggedness, its fertility, its stability and its virility." The senators have supplied some remarkable ideas upon the subject of what a national flower should be or mean to the country but as usual nothing has come of it, and very likely nothing will, but the subject is still there, still open to discussion and may be brought up again any time to relieve a dreary day in the United States Senate.

Just Turn the Knob for Silence

James W. Porter of Ripley, Tenn., says he likes silence for himself and he would also like to pass some on to others. To bring this about he recently purchased 15 minutes of time on his local television station and devoted almost 13 minutes of it to absolute silence. Just so people would know what they were getting, and how it came about he opened the silent period by smashing several records and then proposing a "National Can-the-Racket League." He asked his audience not to turn the dial for he was offering the "amazing new discovery — instant silence." There were occasional announcements to reassure listeners that TV sets were not out of repair, that they were enjoying the blessing of silence purchased for them by Porter.

A woman recently called upon her congressman and during the visit she delivered a long harangue in which she denounced the many programs of violence on TV, told the congressman how bad that was for her children and finally demanded that he do something about it. The harassed congressman finally turned on the woman and demanded to know if she had ever thought of turning the thing off. It was a good answer and it's also the answer to the public benefactor who is buying silence on the TV. All those who want silence or dislike the programs can get what they want by merely turning the knob on the TV to off. But few of them will do it. They love to complain and if they are going to sit in silence they want everybody else to have silence, too.

Trespassing Bill Needs Attention, Says Landowner Editor, Post-Crescent: There is a bill on trespassing on farm land coming up in our legislature very soon. This is a matter that deserves utmost attention. The fact that the people can get around so easily in cars has created a new perspective. The fact that our law enforcement officials are elected by the voters and not under the supervision of the county board creates another problem. When we consult our lawyers in regards to violating and trespassing laws they tell us that all we can collect is damages. People can drive on our land, throw beer cans, cartons, golf pins, toilet paper, etc.; left for us to pick up or, if left, would damage our machinery. Hunters in turn take our game, break down our fences, leave our gates open, start fires and have also taken containers of apples, hickory nuts and butternuts without permission. If we contact the sheriff he usually doesn't have time for petty cases. All that is left for us is to grin and bear it and still pay our taxes. Yet I have noticed if a check is forged and the city bank is holding the bag and the sheriff is notified he soon gets on his horse and gets going. It's high time landowners should ask and demand the same protection our city cousins have. Imagine a farmer driving on city lawns, picking flowers, shooting a squirrel, throwing empty cans or bottles on their lawns. Would that be a petty offense? Trespassing is simply a matter of infringing on the rights of others. Throwing down the constitution of the U. S. and walking on it is a challenge to our Bill of Rights. I hope that the farmers through the Farm Bureau will amend legislation that will crush this evil before it leads to more corruption and decline. O. P. Cull, Porterville

Outagamie People Urged to Get Facts on Child Guidance Clinics

Editor, Post-Crescent: My initial reaction to Dr. Harrington's unfortunate March 5 letter in your paper regarding child guidance clinics, was one of utter disbelief. It seemed impossible that after three years of concerted effort to start a guidance clinic in Appleton, there still existed such a paucity of facts and such a multiplicity of uninformed opinions. I must admit I am not nearly as disheartened now after reconsidering the matter. Why? Previous letters to your paper have attacked the guidance clinic on concrete issues such as the cost of the program. This letter only used rabble-rousing terms such as "statism," "welfarism," and "communism." Of course, anyone cognizant of the implication of these labels, realizes how ridiculous it is to apply them to the guidance movement. It is a travesty on the intelligence of Outagamie's citizenry to expect them to fall for such trash. It is interesting to speculate that the opponents of the child guidance clinic have at last run out of tangible arguments and have resorted to flimsy name-calling. Dr. Harrington stated, "Mental health or hygiene is non-existent . . ." Webster disagrees. He defines it as, "The science and art of maintaining mental health and preventing the development of insanity and neurosis." Actually, no professional person could draw a line between mental and physical hygiene. Psychiatric case workers, doctors, psychologists, and psychiatrists work as a team in guidance clinics; giving effect to the most modern methods of preventing mental illness and delinquency. These people are not those "young men and women, some scarcely out of their teens . . ." referred to by Dr. Harrington, but skilled professional workers. The child guidance movement did not begin yesterday, or last year. In Wisconsin it goes back to at least 1926 when a clinic was opened in Milwaukee. In 1958, there were 17 clinics operating in 16 Wisconsin counties. The emphasis is on the prevention of mental illness by diagnosing and treating disorders in the incipient stage. It is almost platitudinal to say that children are our most precious resource. Prevention of community behavior problems can't be achieved without systematic efforts to identify, at an early age, children who will have future difficulties in personal adjustment. The clinic is not an end in itself, but a means to an end. It seeks to detect these difficulties and to see what can be done about them. There have been endless opinions on what we should do for our children, but thus far there has been a severe shortage of facts. We have been content to stand "pat" in our ignorance and deny the existence of youth problems. They always exist "in that other" city or county; never in ours. No. Child guidance clinics are not a panacea for all communities' problems. They cannot provide, nor have they ever attempted to provide, all the services a community may need. But they are the best method yet devised for detecting and treating the mental health problems of our children. The time is rapidly approaching when communities will spend as much money on our children as they do on roads. They will feel as great a responsibility concerning mental health as they do for physical health problems and will expend as much effort to prevent the development of a neurosis as they now spend to prevent a small pox or measles. It would be a pity for a progressive county such as Outagamie to be one of the last Wisconsin counties to adopt a child guidance clinic. I cannot urge too strongly the necessity for "getting the facts" straight on this vital and promising practice for helping our children. Under the Capitol Dome Struggle May Loom On Schimenz Choice

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The struggle over the confirmation of Matthias Schimenz of Milwaukee, Gov. Nelson's nominee for the chairmanship of the public service commission, is considerably more important in its long-range meaning than much of the other matter now before the legislature which is getting more publicity and attention. The fight involves the control of the state's major regulatory department, which now consists of one hold-over of the Republican regime, and one member already chosen by Gov. Nelson and presumably reflecting more closely the liberal views on the regulation of utilities and other public service corporations of the governor and his Democratic party. If Schimenz is confirmed, it will give the Democrats control of their first important administrative department since the election. HOW IT GOES Normally the Republican state senate would not be disposed to quarrel with a governor's nominations. But normally it can find little excuse to do so. Wilful or whimsical opposition is dangerous politically. It might excite political resentment. But that is not to say that such confirmation by a Republican senate comes very willingly or very happily. Republicans have a natural reluctance to endorse the replacement of a public service commissioner, in this instance George Steinmetz, who was installed by a Republican regime. Such a replacement is a repudiation of what has gone before. What is needed in such instances for a successful resistance to an important nomination is an excuse, a peg, a position from which to shoot with impunity. It may very well be that the Republican senate has found such a sanctuary in the Schimenz situation and that Gov. Nelson will lose his first important legislative battle on this choice.

condemning Lincoln you understand as I sincerely believe they have a good ball club coming through as they did, why was that decision called? In all my days of basketball, and I've seen many games, I never yet saw a ball taken out of bounds when the referees differed on a decision. They didn't? They did differ? What was the answer? Something was decided out there in the middle of the floor when those two referees took so long about coming through with what was going on. Why did it take so long for the referees to come over and tell the boys of the decision? And the people listening in on radio — did they ever find out? They could have died of suspense waiting for the decision. Our "on-the-ball" local radio announcer couldn't get himself what was happening. Pray tell me why that wasn't called a jump ball, which is the way all controversial decisions end up? That would have given both teams a last chance at the ball, which they deserved. I hope in the future things of this nature will not happen again. If it does I'm afraid we'll end up with our boys not wanting to compete in State WIAA competition. I would love to see that movie on this last play. I understand it shows no traveling. If the referees would have called it right (as the movie shows) there would have been no grounds for complaint. "The bottom dropped out," one Kimberly player told me, that's why we didn't come back fighting to take consolation. That's all right, we'll take the championship next year. So good luck and come back next season fighting. Mrs. George Langehuizen 204 Helen Street, Kimberly

CAREER MAN

First there is the fact that Steinmetz is not a partisan in the ordinary sense. He is a career man in the best sense of the word. His elevation to the commission by former Gov. Walter J. Kohler was a tribute to more than three decades of staff work in the agency as an engineer. It was widely praised in neutral quarters at the time. Thus Nelson appears to be insisting upon introducing a partisan politician into a job held by a non-partisan who has served faithfully by all fair tests. But Schimenz also is the victim, as it turns out, of his own local political career. He is being opposed with extraordinary violence by Milwaukee suburban government officials who accuse him of prejudice against them and who argue that a prejudiced man ought not to serve in what is essentially a judicial capacity.

HOSTILE FORCES

The combination of hostile forces may be difficult for the governor and Schimenz to overcome and it appears likely now that the governor may yet be forced to name another man, even if another Democrat, who isn't such an easy target. All of which is not to disparage the quality of this gubernatorial nominee as man and public servant. He made a good impression at the extraordinary public hearing held for the ostensible purpose of testing his qualifications. He is one of the leading men in Milwaukee city governmental service, obviously intelligent and of virile convictions. He also had a fortunate opportunity to mollify those who are concerned about a too abrupt change of policy in this sensitive agency. He announced without hesitation, for example, that he is opposed to governmental operation of public utilities and is in fact opposed to all unnecessary government competition with private enterprise. That manly declaration probably annoyed some of the doctrinaire liberals, but it just happened to be a true recital of his attitudes and records as a Milwaukee alderman working in an administration headed by a Socialist mayor.

Young People Drawn to New York As Mecca of Business Activity

By Marguerite Schumann

Anyone who has come to New York by water and seen its man-made crags and canyons shimmering mysteriously

Among the 11,000 living Lawrence college alumni scattered among 50 states and a sampling of foreign countries are a significant number who hold jobs of unusual interest. Several of them, now living on the east coast, are the subject of this series featuring 1-time Fox Cities residents.

ly through its man-made haze know what new world must have meant to thousands during the 19th century.

When you come upon New York by the back door — the route most midwesterners emigrate to America's most fabulous city — the approach is not so dramatic, but a world equally new lies within Manhattan for the son of the great plains.

Why are young Americans, here. To one born and school-midwesterners, Lawrentians in the midwest, there is drawn to New York? And always a nagging doubt that what do they do and how do what you have learned or they make out when they get achieved is not quite 'big time' Even though you may there?

Major Activity

"New York is the mecca for all major business activity, if not so dramatic, but a world equally new lies within Manhattan for the son of the great plains.

the surface wherever that water is.

"Yes, there is a universe here consisting of Ivy league graduates which exists within itself in the business community in New York. It is not an isolated universe, however, er, to the point where outsiders are excluded.

"In today's highly competitive business there is tremendous competition for talent. You want talent and need talent; you don't care from where the talented one graduated. It is interesting to observe what a preponderance of midwesterners hold responsible jobs in this city," Willem says.

For a top-flight executive in a business which is alleged to trade in superficiality, John Willem holds some remarkable views.

Madison Avenue

The Madison Avenue type? "A fictional character, just like the movie's picture of a newspaper reporter. However, there do exist individuals in every profession who try to live up to the fictional characterization of their trade."

His professional philosophy? "I don't know if I'm making a major contribution to the improvement of the breed or the welfare of man or the economy of the United States, but I have found the answer to my own life in a full opportunity to use my talents and apparently my company finds it acceptable. I suppose in the sum total, it all adds up to some benefit."

How to avoid an ulcer and gain peace of mind in a frenetic business? "Some time ago I was obliged to answer a questionnaire sent by a minister from California on the function of religion in business practice. In answering, I was conscious of the fact that most of the successful men I knew exercised some form of deference to a religious concept—whether it be in the form of prayer before a meeting or luncheon, or in some quiet meditation during the day.

"To me, that has been a very important strength, which can be traced back to my days at Lawrence with its religion requirement in the curriculum and its religious chapel. I have always been grateful for that as a part of my educational process."

The place of the liberal arts in the market place? "The over-specialized man today is in trouble. He is not recession or depression - proof. Nor is he adaptable or adjustable past the age of 35. If you start with a liberal arts background, you have established for yourself a broad enough base to permit lateral movement — more than just the vertical movement possible to the specialist."

Much Mileage

John Willem has put in a lot of mileage between his educational beginnings at Milwaukee's 18th street grade school and his office in a Manhattan skyscraper.

When he was at Lawrence he was a string correspondent for a Milwaukee paper, in the course of earning his master's degree he did research under Dr. George Gallup of the celebrated poll, he has been a lecturer at four midwestern schools of journalism, for eight years he was one of "Editor and Publisher's" contributing authorities on newspaper treatment in the United States and he held a string of high-titled jobs in Chicago advertising circles (except for a year in Mexico City for Orange Crush) until moving to New York last year. During his evenings, Willem has become an authority on the history of United States coins, and has authored several articles for numismatic publications along with a book "The United States Trade Dollar—America's Only Discredited Coin." In 1957, he was appointed to the United States Assay commission by President Eisenhower.

Lawrence Says: Moscow Told To Show Trust In Relations

Macmillan-like Talks
Show Soviets That We Can Cooperate

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Everybody is happy, externally at least, over the Macmillan-Eisenhower talks. Everybody, that is, except Moscow. Unfortunately for them, the Soviets haven't been told just what the British and American governments will agree to or what formula they would accept that could solve the Berlin question or anything else.

The official Soviet news agency (Tass) naively laments that the Russians have not been let in on the secret conferences. A press dispatch from Moscow says the Soviets have told their press that, while President Eisenhower under the pressure of world public opinion did agree tentatively to summit talks, he cold-shouldered Macmillan's plan for balancing military forces in Europe. The dispatch quotes Tass further as saying:

No Decisions Adopted
"Official statements by U. S. and British representatives show that the present talks have not led to the adoption of any definite decisions in almost all the remaining questions."

But no negotiator worth his salt would, in advance of a negotiation, shout from the housetops through the press of the world just what he is willing to accept. Obviously the Prime Minister of Britain and the President of the United States exchanged views and discussed hypothetically all sorts of plans and ideas.

The Moscow government may have the erroneous impression that the foreign ministers' conference at Geneva on May 11 is to be merely a perfunctory meeting to arrange the agenda for the summit conference in July or August, but the United States doesn't see it that way. Unless there is some real progress made at Geneva in May, it is just conceivable that there will be no summit conference.

Can We Trust Soviets?
This means that something substantial has to be agreed upon at the first meeting. This is important because, even if a stenographer from the Russian foreign office had been present to take down everything said at the Camp David Conferences, there still would remain the big unanswered question: Will Russia keep any written agreement she makes, and can her government be trusted?

It seems a hard point to get over to the Russians, but, if they ever made a substantial concession and showed evidence of keeping faith, it would do more to forward the cause of peace in Europe and elsewhere than all the publicity of a summit conference could ever accomplish.

Distrust Persists
The question of reduction of armaments, limitation of the size of armed forces or the policing of areas in central Europe by troops other than those of the local government, concerned would yield to easy solution if there were mutual trust. Conversely, no plan, no matter how brilliant on paper will be of any avail so long as distrust persists.

The plain truth is that fear exists on both sides. The Soviets think allied bases and armed forces near their territory threaten them and that a surprise attack can come at any time from the West. Similarly, the West is convinced that the behavior of the Soviet armies in the countries they have conquered, including East Germany, is that of a ruthless aggressor with no consideration for the rights of their own or other peoples.

Surrender Terms
Under such circumstances the cold war cannot be ended by terms of virtual surrender which the Soviets continually insist upon.

There is no intention on the part of the West to surrender to the Soviets. There is no trust placed in the Soviets. While they claim they didn't present an ultimatum to get western troops out of Berlin in May, the impression still prevails here that they thought they could negotiate with the West under duress.

That plan has failed, and there is not the slightest indication that the West will accept any plan that recognizes the Soviet Union as the conquering ruler of West Berlin or of any other part of Europe.

Poisoned Fish Causes One Death

Alert Spread Through East, but Only Small Area Is Affected

Philadelphia — The death of a 3-year-old boy who had eaten poisoned fish touched off an alert last night that spread fear throughout the east for several hours.

Later, a statement from federal food inspectors indicated the bad fish was confined to a relatively small amount in the Philadelphia area.

The Donald Kleinschmidt family, both parents and four young children, were stricken ill at their home in nearby Haddon Heights, N. J., after eating a fish dinner Tuesday night.

Dale, 3, the youngest, died shortly after admission to Cooper hospital in Camden. Two young brothers and a sister were seriously stricken.

Representatives of the U. S. were informed yesterday of the cause of the youngster's death. Laboratory analyses of the remnants of the family's dinner indicated a high content of sodium nitrate, a poison, which in much smaller quantities is sometimes used as a preservative for meats.

Meanwhile, three women had suffered attacks of food poisoning after eating fish in a Philadelphia restaurant Tuesday night.

Robert C. Stanfill, director of the federal food agency, said his inspectors quickly traced the fish, in both instances fileted fluke and flounder, to a single wholesale distributor in Philadelphia.

By now, the city health department had been advised and the dinner hour was fast approaching.

The department immediately issued a warning on a teletype service which reaches newspapers, radio and television stations in the area.

The first report stated that "all flounder purchased yesterday and today is poisonous" and should be destroyed.

Police teletypes here passed on the warning and officials of adjoining states issued similar warnings.

As radio and television programs brought the news to homes where the lenten meal was being prepared or had already been eaten, telephone calls poured into stations, papers and city agencies.

A little later in the evening, Stanfill's office announced that the tainted fish had been traced to a single wholesaler—the name of the firm was not disclosed by official sources—and that its distribution was confined to the city, the suburbs and nearby points in southern New Jersey.

Appleton contributed its full share and more to ending last year's recession, according to government statistics.

Specifically, with .0272 per cent of the national population, Appleton consumed .0338 per cent of the nation's output of goods and services. This meant that citizens helped to hold the gross national product to as high a level as was maintained.

The gross national product, which is thought to represent an index of economic conditions, is the total value of goods produced and services rendered—from haircuts to house furnishings, from automobile repair services to apparel and from movies to merchandise.

Locally, of the $103,677,000 in personal consumer expenditures, $80,772,000 was for goods purchased in retail stores and $22,905,000 was the estimated amount spent for services of all kinds.

Consumer spending helped to boost national product more than any other factor, officials claim.

Reynolds said the commission at its session starting here on Monday, April 20, will continue to work until an agreed termination plan is worked out.

The legislature has passed the mid-way point and the enabling legislation must be adopted this year, under the terms of the federal law.

P-C Circulation Chief to Attend Journalism Seminar

Erben Krueger, circulation manager of the Post-Crescent, will attend a University of Wisconsin seminar on "Population Trends versus Circulation Growth" at the annual journalism institutes May 1 and 2.

Circulation managers from newspapers in Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Minnesota will attend.

The seminar advisory committee includes Ted Dost of the Green Bay Press-Gazette.

The Wisconsin Daily Newspaper Circulation Managers association sponsors the annual seminar in cooperation with the UW school of journalism, the school of commerce, the extension division, and the department of agricultural journalism.

Downtown Retailers Slate Talk on Role of CD in Air Attack

Francis Jenkins, member of the industrial survival committee of the chamber of commerce, will talk about the role of civil defense in event of enemy attack at the 9:30 a.m. Wednesday meeting of the Appleton Downtown Retail association.

Support of the Fox Cities Foxes baseball team, evaluation of February Dollar Days and a final fiscal report of the Christmas committee also are on the agenda. Giles Flanagan, assistant chamber secretary, said.

Despite His Physical limitations, the result of polio paralysis, Paul Williamson, 1611 W. Lorain court, has proven himself as a literature research analyst at the Kimberly-Clark corporation and received a pay raise. He started with the company as an engineer, but had to change his field after the disease struck. Williamson is shown with his desk, especially outfitted for him.

Learns New Work

Polio-Stricken Man Proves Abilities, Gets Raise in Pay

A man got a raise in pay the other day.

What's so unusual about that?

Well, in this case the raise went to a young family man dependent on an electrically propelled wheel chair, hand splints and arm supports; a man who needs many hours of bed rest and regular therapy for mobility, for life itself.

It went to a young man who, in spite of such a handicap, has been able to support his family and make a real contribution to the company that employs him.

Paul Williamson, 1611 W. Lorain court, joined Kimberly-Clark corporation in 1947 as a plant engineer. He was happiest when he was climbing over paper machines and fixing things at the Neenah mill.

The future looked bright. He and his wife, Marcia, had two children. A third was on the way.

Polio Strikes

Then bulbar polio struck him down in September, 1954. For many months it was a struggle simply to stay alive—many weeks in an iron lung, months at Warm Springs Polio foundation being fitted with apparatus, learning how to feed himself, how to write, again, how to do hundreds of small things that other people do automatically.

But the doctors told Williamson he would live. Then to abstract scientific material came adjustment to complete paralysis. "It was like being glued down to a board," he said.

How do you adjust to that? Williamson adjusted. After all, what more does a man need than a good wife, a good family, many helpful and sincere friends?

There is one thing more that a fellow needs. A job.

Williamson began to wonder about work. Kimberly-Clark wondered, too, about how he could fit into the company operation. The company sought to find something useful for him to do—something that would benefit both Paul and the company. That's the way Paul wanted it.

Research Analysis

When the research literature analysis in the research and development center of Kimberly-Clark was decided upon about two years ago both he and his supervisors were somewhat skeptical.

Could he do the work? Would it be a contribution that would be useful?

The raise the other day represents an affirmative answer. It pleased both Williamson and Kimberly-Clark more than any raise to any other employee. He knew, and the company knew, that his work had merited it.

Supervisors say his ground-work pulp bibliography, already ready in use in research and development and in the mills of the company, is a valuable contribution.

Paul Williamson has been determined. On his own he has studied and learned how to adjust to complete paralysis. He also took a correspondence course in pulp and paper making, and is halfway through a course in elementary Russian.

It's really not surprising that Paul Williamson got a raise the other day.

Bids to Furnish Parking Meters, Directory Opened

Bids to furnish 352 hand-operated parking meter mechanisms and to print 300 city directory booklets were opened Tuesday by the board of public works.

Petersen Press, which quoted $353 plus $16 a page for all pages in excess of the number in last year's directory, was recommended to the council for the printing contract. Badger Printing wanted $385 plus $33.50 for four added pages.

The directory lists the names of all city officials, gives statistics on taxation and the budget, details the council rules, including some fringe benefits for workers, and other city data.

Replacement Program
Parking meter bids considered 352 old meters in trade and that city parking department workers would install the mechanisms on the old posts. The bids mark the beginning of a 5-year replacement program for the city's 1,014 meters, expected to cost about $48,479.

Bids from six companies, with Duncan Parking Meter corporation, Chicago, high at $48.50 a meter, and Ready-Meter company, Minneapolis, low at $25.85 a meter, were referred to the parking meter department for tabulation and forwarding to the public safety committee. The figures quoted do not include discounts offered.

Fine Check Bounces

Toledo, Ohio — Arrested in a bar, 46-year-old Frank G. Noble had little choice but to admit he had been passing bum checks. His latest, for $10, was used to recover his car after the police traffic bureau impounded it for parking violations.

Terrors Den Youth Center Plays Vital Role in Lives of Teens

BY MARY JENSEN

Ask anyone. If he or she is an Appleton High school student, there'll be nothing but praise for the Terrors Den youth center at the YMCA.

Jim Boyle, 17-year-old senior and frequent visitor of the Den says, "The Terrors Den keeps kids off the streets and gives them a way to occupy their time." Apparently Jim approves of the ways offered to spend leisure time. He stops in almost every day after school and usually three nights a week, if his studies permit it.

The den was organized in 1945 as a result of much loitering and aimless activity observed on Appleton streets. "Hang-outs" were becoming numerous. Acting on the problem, Y and Hi-Y members offered to spearhead a drive to institute a new youth center. The result was the Terrors Den.

Underlying Thought
Carl Bruno, YMCA youth director, says that any youth program must be run in a business-like manner to be successful and that's what he does, from behind the scenes. To the kids, the den is a "drop-in sort of affair," says Bruno. The philosophy underlying this is that many teens resist and rebel against any highly organized activity. They covet the freedom to choose the activity which they prefer.

The wide range of programs at the den provides them with a chance to exercise this freedom, to establish sound relationships with their contemporaries, experience the sought-after sense of belonging and to feel pride in their organization — planned and governed by the teens themselves.

The den is operated within the framework of the YMCA, whose personnel oversee the activities. There is a separate den membership, which all those using the facilities must have. The budget of the den is separate from that of the Y.

The Den Governing board, composed of a boy and girl from each high school class, meets twice a month to plan activities and discuss problems of discipline. Board members are elected by the students.

Stringent Rules
Smoking, drinking or gambling is not allowed in or around the den. Discipline practices, for the most part, mean curtailment of privileges. Those who don't obey the rules are denied the opportunity of coming to the den for a period of time. Continued offenders are dropped from membership.

The den is open Monday through Thursday from 9:30 a. m. until 11:30 p. m. Each Friday until 11:30 p. m. Each first and third Saturday the den is open, if no school event is scheduled. During vacations the den is open and, as always, supervised.

Activities include ping pong, bumper pool, shuffle board, knock hockey, television and others. "Probably the favorite pastime is dancing," says Bruno. The juke box is the real center of operations — for a nickel the students hear six selections. All the records are chosen by the students and are purchased regularly with den funds.

Within the den there is a ski club and several service projects, such as the annual "Peanuts for Polio" drive. Splash parties and tournaments are held throughout the year.

Play Vital Role

"Youth centers have an important role to play in knowing the teenager," says Bruno. He has, over the long period he has spent with youths, seen individuals undergo remarkable changes, which he feels were caused by the influence of a well-planned, permissive youth program. He added that these personality alterations are clearly visible in matters of getting along with others.

a group, Den supervisors hope that youths will become more aware of social attitudes and behavior of others, benefiting from the exchange of ideas taking place in any group situation.

Through the activities at the Terrors Den Bruno hopes the teenagers will be challenged to a higher level of life and aspirations. He definitely feels that such a youth program is one aspect of a character-building life in which the character of an individual is strengthened by association with other young people.

Fallout Hazard Test Scheduled

Washington — The National Academy of Science is planning to take a new look at the biological effects of atomic radiation.

Academy president Detlev W. Bronk announced that a voluminous report on this subject, issued in June 1956, is to be updated. The 1956 report said radiation from any source — from bombs to medical X-rays or natural environment — often is harmful.

However, the report said that as of that time nuclear weapons tests presented a smaller genetic hazard than medical use of radiation such as X-rays.

The 62,000-word report also said radioactive strontium in test bomb fallout posed no hazard to present generations. But it cautioned that an intensified nuclear testing beyond the 1956 rate would increase the genetic hazard and might bring the strontium hazard to the critical point. In sufficient accumulations, strontium is believed capable of producing blood and bone cancer.

Television Shows Offered many ideas for skits in the Newcomers' variety show. One of the most satirized programs is "Queen for a Day." The woman with the saddest problem is Clint Clark, left, who is crowned queen by Robert Peterson, right.

Coming Down the Straightaway at the Newcomers party were Mr. Greenjeans, left, and Captain Kangaroo. Mr. Greenjeans, Rex E. Ruther, fell behind the Captain, William Skaife, at the home stretch. They were part of the cast that entertained 175 WW Newcomer members.

College Concert Choir Last of Artist Series

The Lawrence college concert choir, which recently completed its winter tour of Wisconsin and Illinois, will present the final program of the Community Artist Series at 8:30 p. m. April 6 in the Memorial chapel. Lavahn Maesch is in his sixth season as directors of the 69-voice group.

The mixed Lawrence choir has been touring since 1930, and in that time it has had two directors—founder of the group, Dr. Carl J. Waterman, now retired after 43 years as head of Lawrence music life, and Maesch, director of the conservatory and the choir. Maesch was one of the outstanding accompanists in the earlier days of the organization.

The 29 years of the choir have seen a number of famous names throughout. Shirlee Emmons, an Artist Series star of last October, was a soloist with Dr. Waterman's group. Lucille Meusel has been active for many years in opera, both abroad and with the old Chicago Grand opera company. Lawrence tenors are becoming familiar in Broadway musical comedy. Carl Nicholas, one of the 1935 crop, has sung the lead in Gertrude Lawrence's "Lady in the Dark," and was in Irving Berlin's "This is the Army." More recently he was seen in "Guys and Dolls" and is currently in "The Music Man." A recent soloist, Don Swenson, understudied the leading roles in road companies of "Oklahoma," "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," "South Pacific," the Chicago cast of "Guys and Dolls," and is now doing television on the west coast.

In the same "Oklahoma" company Patricia Johnson, a choir member of several years ago, has the feminine lead and appeared throughout Europe several summers ago in the show. Ben Gage, former husband of Esther Williams and a well-known radio announcer, got his start by applying for a singing spot while the choir tour was in Chicago.

The membership of the present choir includes a number of students from the Fox cities area. They are Edward Boehm, Jeanette Mattern, and Carolyn Rosenthal, all of Menasha; Carol Fallon, Oshkosh; and James Boettcher, 207 S. Meade street; Thomas Christie, 536 N. Drew street; and Jeanne Voll, 727 E. Franklin street.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained at Belling's pharmacy.

Crystal Rope Gives Dress Femininity

This season all headlines from Paris herald the return to the feminine look. Clothes have never been prettier and accessories appropriate to this lovely look should be chosen with care.

Crystal beads with their sparkling delicacy—a perfect complement for "flower garden" hats and wide deep decollete necklines—emerge as the leading costume jewelry of the moment.

Crystals in a variety of shapes, sizes and colors used alone or interspersed with pearls make sumptuous bibs, high twisted multi-strand empire necklaces and long fashionable ropes that will inspire your own "a la carte" way with jewelry.

'Nested' Bibs In a season lavish with beads the more you mix them the more flattery. Wear bibs "nested," starting high at the throat and filling in the entire decollete. Spice your crystal bib with pearl and crystal ropes wound in and out for a melange of enticement.

Even the "staple" pearl emerges as a fashion contender when accompanied by glittering crystals. A whole garden full variety of effects can be achieved with the judicious use of color.

Crystal beads that take their cue from surrounding colors and reflect millions of dancing rainbows not only add sparkle to your costume but to your face as well. They are a delightful and refreshing new fashion note in jewelry.

Girls Interested In Nursing Should Investigate Field

BY SUSAN PARKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Girls who are interested in nursing should investigate the field in their junior year in high school or during the first part of their senior year, says Mrs. Margaret Preston, director of nurses at Appleton Memorial hospital.

It is important for the girl who desires a career in nursing to study carefully the various aspects of the field and various courses available. Mrs. Preston stresses this point, advising a girl to discuss the matter with her high school vocational counselor, write to the state board of nurse examiners at the state capital, or write to the National League of Nursing, 2 Park avenue, New York, N. Y., for an accredited school list.

From the list of accredited schools a girl can make a selection of schools in the part of the country she would like.

then correspond and investigate the school curriculum. The National League of Nursing requires qualifying examinations to be taken by the prospective student.

College Prep Course Mrs. Preston suggests that in the junior year of high school a girl should plan on taking a college preparatory course of study including at least geometry, one year of chemistry, social studies, language, and English. The girl also must check to be sure she will have the nursing school prerequisite courses.

Mrs. Preston graduated from Stevens High school, Lancaster, Pa.; attended

Girls who are about to graduate in June from high schools or colleges must make decisions on future plans in the career world. This is the third in a series of articles, particularly directed to the high school girl, presenting Fox Cities women in various careers open to women. Certain facets of these jobs, such as education needed, qualifications and daily routine will be explained in the series.

Duke university, Durham, N. C.; studied three years at New York Hospital Cornell Medical Center School of Nursing, then received her diploma in nursing. She then took the state board examination and was eligible for her registered nurse or R.N. degree.

U.C.L.A. was the site for study of public health courses, and she was certified in California as a public health nurse. Mrs. Preston's formal education was concluded at Millersville college, Millersville, Pa., where she received a bachelor of science degree in nursing education.

Types of Courses There are nursing courses of two, three and four to five years. The 2-year course allows the nurse to practice in certain states, she is registered in certain states (not nationwide registration) and she is limited to the types of nursing.

The 3-year program is referred to by Mrs. Preston and the nursing field as the diploma program. The 4- and 5-year plan is the collegiate program. Both of these programs have specific qualifications and each has its own advantages and disadvantages, best understood by talking to registered nurses and studying brochures.

The baccalaureate or collegiate plan does help a girl to widen her professional knowledge.

The regular staff nurse must give bedside care, medication, treatments as ordered, keep patient records and responsible for personnel work with other departments in the hospital. Throughout the United States, the nurse usually works eight consecutive hours a day, whether day, evening or night shift. The salary on a general nation-wide basis might begin

New Hair Styles Have Young Look

Hair styles this spring of 1950 will portray the young look, but with individual styling that skips straight locks as a mode of the past. Permanent curls will be popular in a multitude of stylings—but there may be only a hint of curl, or soft waves or springy curls all round the head. It's just that straight hair is out of the fashion picture.

Teenage styles will tend toward an adaptation of the long popular pixie styling, but modified so that it has little resemblance to the way it is now known. Expertly placed, curled wisps will be cut to stay in place, easy to train and care for.

Curl Coiffure
Many women will continue to wear the ageless curl coiffure with head-hugging soft waves on crown and back of head.

Moderately short styling seems to be the trend. Styling will be all important, adapted to the individual more than ever before.

Forelocks will take many forms. They may become gamin wisps, lovely tendrils, airy waves, ragged or brushed-up curls that are either disciplined or bouncy.

Sweetheart Bandeau
The hair itself may be uplifted in style, brushed back or in a combination of back curls and waves. A new "sweetheart" styling will appear with a bandeau line across the head. This is a particularly lively style for those who can wear it and even here there will be variations of crown, nape and brow treatment.

Another facet of the young look for spring is the growing popularity of hair tinting. Hair colorings range from natural toners to golden blonde, all degrees of red shades, color tinted silver tresses to glowing platinum. Preference in the Fox Cities centers on natural hair tinting and coloring to bring out the beauty of the hair tones of the individual.

The Empire and regal hairdos of 1950 will be worn by a few women, but mostly for special occasions to achieve a coiffure to suit the moment or to enhance a particular gown or outfit. As one Fox Cities stylist put it, "1950 coiffure fashions will be created by careful styling to suit the woman's personality by using moderate short to short hair as a base and then going on from there."

These Three Area Women had their hair styled especially to present a preview of coiffures destined for popularity this spring. Upper left, Mrs. Mabel Zuleger, route 4, Appleton, wears an adaptation of the new American "sweetheart" coiffure. Soft, gentle curls flow in a bandeau with airy freshness across the hairline. Mrs. Marlene Roglinski, route 2, Appleton, has a Parisian hair-do that shows how versatile is brush-cut styling. Rolled curls dramatize the uplifted crown; soft front waves extend partly over the forehead and deftly placed curls make a pretty back-of-the-head. Miss Noreen Wankey, 805 W. Brewster street, models front and back views of the new modified pixie styling with its curled wisps and flared crown treatment.

Girls May Select Field of Nursing

at about $250 a month, but, of course, it varies with the city, hospital and area. With experience some nurses earn as much as $10,000 to $12,000 a year. Salaries are flexible depending upon the position, education and ability of the nurse.

Advantages
Nursing is a challenge, it is constantly changing and the nurse is constantly striving to improve patient care. This is a distinct advantage to her type of work claims Mrs. Preston.

As to disadvantages, Mrs. Preston says that if a person finds a great many in her work she should not be in it. She also says that what may not be advantageous to her also may not be advantageous in other fields—the dissatisfactions are the same no matter what vocation a person is in.

The directress honestly admitted that she entered nursing in training to see if she would like the work and she did, but originally, as a college student she did not have any particular job in mind and was hunting for ideas. Since that time she has discovered that the whole profession takes a great deal of responsibility and that it has to be accepted.

Mother of Two

When Mrs. Preston is not working at Appleton Memorial hospital she is busy at home taking care of her two children, 10 and 11 years old. She is active in the League of Women Voters, the Business and Professional Women, PTA and the First Methodist church. She enjoys ceramics, Pennsylvania Dutch paintings, reading and almost all types of hobbies and interests.

Experience is an important factor in becoming an administrator in a hospital. Mrs. Preston is well qualified—she has been head nurse of an obstetrics unit at New York hospital, New York city; a nurse in the Cedars of Lebanon hospital, Hollywood, Calif.; in public health work; acting chief nurse in a hospital in England during World War II; supervisor of a health department; a director of nurses; taught at Lancaster Hospital School of Nursing, Lancaster, Pa., and finally arrived in Appleton in 1907 to be director of nurses. Mrs. Preston says that there is a wide field of employment opportunities for women with a nurse's background: industry, doctors' offices, specialized fields in a hospital, public health, teaching, private duty, school nursing, visiting nurses associations and missionary work with the U. S. Public Health service and the World Health organization.

Regardless of what course a girl chooses to take and regardless of what branch of nursing she decides to be in, a girl must be aware of the fact that the nursing field is in the midst of a grand-scale change in policies, format and views of the advantages or disadvantages of certain types of courses. The field is growing by leaps and bounds, requiring many more girls as nurses than are in training. It is a wide-open vocation.

Student, 19, Bride of 69 Still Say 'Yes'

Memphis, Tenn.—(U)—A 19-year-old student and his 69-year-old bride spent their first day at home Tuesday beating off demands of the bride's children that they end their marriage.

Paul Dunn and Mrs. Lola Tipton Dunn said they were wed Monday in Covington, Tenn., by County Judge Stanley Shoaf and intend to stay that way.

They met about a year ago when Dunn, studying accounting at a business school, rented a room from his future wife.

Mrs. Dunn has been a widow 19 years. She declined to identify her son and daughter, both of whom are married. She said her son is in his mid-thirties and her daughter about 40.

It means to make a living without nagging them about it.

It is also the wise parents that give their children the opportunity to handle some money of their own.

If you do this you are helping them meet life as an adult.

Easter Bonnet Sets Party Table Theme

An unusual, dramatic table centerpiece gets the party off to a gala start. If you are serving an after-church brunch on Easter Sunday, let the Easter bonnet set the theme for your table.

Local sewing center experts suggest you make a centerpiece hat of felt in springtime violet. Set the crown over a low bowl and cut tiny holes in it to hold fresh flowers, so their stems are in water. Scalloping shears used around the edge of the hat and on its ribbon give a decorative scalloped edge.

To make the hat, cut a circle of felt about 18 inches in diameter. Cut a four-inch circle out of the center. Cut a strip three inches wide and as long as necessary to form the crown of the hat.

Stitch to the four-inch circle of felt and to the brim. Add a slender roll of tissue paper to under-section of crown, to keep it in shape.

Use scalloping shears along sides of a piece of ribbon and tie around crown of hat.

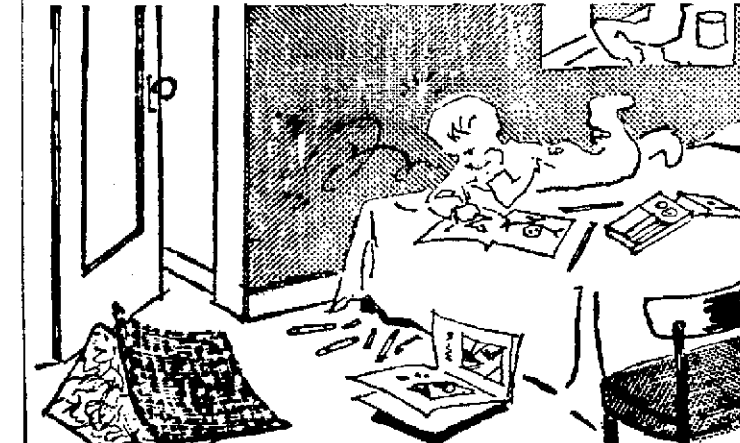

Now set the hat over a low bowl. With sharp, pointed scissors, make holes in the crown and stick fresh flowers in the hat, with stems reaching the water. Scatter a few flowers along the brim. (To keep these flowers fresh, wrap stems in wet tissue paper and cover in foil.)

After Easter is over, store the bonnet for use next year.

"Concrete streets certainly added to the safety of our neighborhood!"

Peace-of-mind goes with concrete pavement! Its grainy surface assures safe, sure stops—gives you dependable skid resistance—even in wet weather. It stays smooth and level, too. There are no potholes to cause dangerous swerves. You're always in control of your car.

And because clean-colored concrete reflects light four times more than any dark surface, you can see and be seen far better at night—a real comfort, driving or walking.

Yet with all this built-in safety, modern concrete offers moderate first-cost and continued low maintenance. Reasons enough to make it the preferred pavement for residential streets everywhere.

Get together with your neighbors

If your street needs paving, make your preference for concrete known. Concrete is the only pavement that can be accurately engineered to carry the expected traffic loads on your street and last 50 years and more.

Officer Shamed at Gethsemane Arrest

BY TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Religion Writer

Gaius my father,
Forgive me, my father, my hasty scrawl for I write swiftly as the first light of day grows bright upon the city's walls. This night has been an active one indeed, although I cannot say it has been the type of action I, a soldier of Rome, most admire.

They have arrested the troublesome Galilean. It took a squad of soldiers and a mob of priestly followers, armed with swords and clubs and led by a betrayer, to arrest this unarmed man by the dark of the moon.

The priests of the temple have condemned him to death but I have doubts the sentence will be carried out. The evidence against him is meager and the condemnation must yet be confirmed by the Procurator, who, for all his faults, is a just man.

Powerful Appeal

The business of this night has thrown me into close contact with the man from Galilee, for it was Titus and I who arresting soldiers. This contact, I confess, my father, has had an effect upon me that is most unsoldierly.

When he looks at me, I feel

This is the fourth in a series of Easter articles. Each is in the form of a letter written by a Roman officer in Jerusalem describing events to his father in Rome.

a strange desire to throw down my sword and cast off my helmet and breastplate and spring weaponless to his defense.

The spell that surrounds the Galilean seems also to have touched Titus, that solid rock of reality, for tonight he thought he saw the Galilean perform one of those acts called miracles! It may have been imagination, but it has shaken Titus badly.

It happened as we arrested the Galilean by the flickering light of the mob's torches in the garden called Gethsemane. I did not see the miraculous act but I heard the commotion among those who surrounded the holy man. I rushed over sword in hand.

Titus stood as one stunned. He told me that the man Peter, defending his master, had drawn a sword and sliced an ear from the head of one of the high priest's servants. And the Galilean rebuked Peter — and replaced the ear!

"It was an illusion," Titus mumbled wildly, more to himself than to me. "It must have been an illusion. Or a trick. Yes, it was a trick. And the light is bad. One can play tricks more easily when the light is bad. Isn't that so, Valerius?"

I had no ready answer.

Hatred Bared

The trial by candlelight before the high priest Caiaphas disgusted me. Hatred showed in every priestly move. The Galilean, strangely, seemed to pity them for their hate. The priests ranted; the Galilean was calm, as if it were he who was judging them.

He was accused of blasphemy, yet the witnesses brought against him could not substantiate the charge for they contradicted themselves and each other. It fell to the Galilean, for what reason I know not, to convict himself, at least in the eyes of the priests.

"Tell us, Nazarene," said the high priest Caiaphas, for this Jesus is from Nazareth in Galilee, "tell us, are you the son of God, as you claim?"

The Galilean needed only to remain silent, for none present had shown the ability to refute him. Instead, he answered readily, and not in a manner calculated to save himself. It was almost as if he wanted to die.

"It is as you have said," he replied calmly. "But I say to you, in the hereafter you shall see the son of man sitting at the right hand of God and coming on the clouds of heaven."

Sentenced Fixed

"Blasphemy!" exclaimed the high priest, turning to the other priests. "Clearly blasphemy! What need we of further witness? The Nazarene convicts himself by his own words! How say we?"

"Death," intoned the other priests, nodding to each other, their darkly bearded faces grim in the flickering light. The Galilean, tranquil in the face of death, was led away to be prepared for his appearance before the Procurator.

After Pilate has freed him, as he surely will, I have decided to speak personally with the Galilean. There are some questions I feel I must

The two met four years ago when Miss Dandridge was singing in a Las Vegas hotel and Denison was operating the dining room. He recently opened his own club here.

She won an Oscar nomination for "Carmen Jones" in 1954 and is the star of the forthcoming "Porgy and Bess."

She is about 35, Denison about 45. Miss Dandridge was divorced from Negro dancer Harold Nicholas in 1951. Denison has also been divorced.

wagon and—winter or summer—drives to nearby Malibu Cove. There, if the waves are right, she spends the day riding the Pacific combers with other surfing enthusiasts.

She has this tip for women: surfing is great for reducing. Statuesque well-tanned Marge lost 15 pounds and 2 inches from her waist after a few months. Today 5-foot-8 Marge has no problem keeping her weight at 135 pounds.

Is she any good? Marge is the world champ.

In Hawaii last November, Marge won the International Surfing Championship for women. And she did it on a day when the waves at Makaha beach were curling large enough to scare husky men shoreward. Marge won the international when the waves at Makaha were 12-foot high. A few days later, she tackled 18-footers. No place for a woman, but Marge rode the giant combers that gave many of Hawaii's best a good excuse to watch from the beach.

The opening lead of the king of hearts marked West with the ace of hearts. After winning the fourth club in dummy, all South had to do was to lead North's queen of hearts and discard the losing eight of diamonds on it.
Now West would be forced to lead a diamond into declarer's ace-queen. If he returned a heart, declarer could trump in one hand and discard the losing diamond from the other.

'Made in U.S.A.' Swim Wear of West Coast Dominates World Market

France may call the turn on suit has enjoyed a unique high fashion, and England prestige. Perhaps this is because the title for woolen cause U.S. firms were the fabrics. Italy may challenge first to develop mass production on originality of design of beachwear, and be in the haute couture, and because American girls were the land may claim credit for first to take to water sports some firsts in international as a natural feminine activity.

Use Foreign Designers

But when it comes to beachwear, nobody challenges the U.S.A.—particularly the west coast part of it.

From California and Oregon come the bathing suits worn 'round the world—from Palm Springs and Palm Beach to the French Riviera and Copacabana Beach in Rio.

Prefer U.S.A. Make

The big swimwear companies of the west — Jantzen, Cole, Catalina, Rose Marie Reid and others—manufacture bathing suits and beach accessories in practically every country of the world. Some foreign factories are owned by the American companies, others are licensed to produce American designs.

Many foreign nations have their own customs in dress, but all of them prefer their bathing suits styled or made in America.

From the days of the first bathing beauties of the old silent films, the American swim

Whatever the reason, the American bathing suit is now a completely international institution, seen wherever girls go swimming or sunning.

Some companies go further with the international theme by employing designers from other countries—France, Italy and Hawaii in particular. But the suits are produced with American methods and the build-in figure controls that have made U.S. bathing beauties the world's ideal.

This year the west coast beach styles are vivid and varied, as always, with more attention than ever to ensembles—coordinated or matching swim caps, beach shoes, cover-up coats and skirts, king-size beach towels and zany hats.

The thousands of Americans who will be seeking the sun in foreign climes this winter will feel right at home on any beach, for the fashion decor will be strictly American.

Your Problems

Sad Dad Sees Truth About Man Taking Free Room, Board

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am the father of a 24-year-old girl. She isn't beautiful but she's healthy-looking and has a nice personality. For the past six years she's been working as a bookkeeper in a paper mill and brings home good money.

Seven months ago she offered to pay for the materials to finish off the attic and rent it out to a fellow who is a foreman at the mill. It seemed like a good idea at the time because they were just friends and nothing more. This fellow and I did all the work and it turned out real nice.

Now these two are crazy in love and they spend every minute together. He eats breakfast with us and supper, too. She packs him the same lunch as I get. They kiss in front of anybody who happens to be around. My wife says she didn't act this foolish about the boys she dated in high school.

The trouble is he hasn't paid his rent for three months. My wife lost her temper yesterday and told him to move. He said he loves it at our house and that he couldn't be happy living away from our daughter. Then he cried.

Our daughter is mad at her mother and refuses to speak to her. What shall we do now? — Sad Father

Dear Sad Dad: Tell him again. And you might add that since he can't live without your daughter, he should marry her and take her with him.

This fellow has no right to expect free room and board from you. If you let him cry himself out of this spot you deserve to be rooked.

DEAR ANN: I've followed your column for a long time hoping someone would write to you about a problem similar to mine. So far — no luck, so I decided to write to you myself.

I married a lovely girl 14 months ago. She quit her job to be a "housewife". She keeps busy with girl friends, club meetings, and whatever young brides do. But she simply will not cook.

We get two home-cooked meals a week. One at her mother's house and the other at my mother's house. The other five nights of the week we eat in restaurants or she buys Cantonese food or pizza pies. She can think of one million excuses for not preparing a meal.

I was brought up on wonderful home-cooking and I miss it. When I mention my mother's cooking she gets mad and tells me maybe I shouldn't have married. A few months ago I told my mother of my trouble and she phoned my wife and offered to teach her. Then she really blew up. What's wrong with her anyhow? — Bicarb Benny

Dear Bicarb: Your mother's cooking is probably "what's wrong with her". You've raved so about Mom's meals that your wife is afraid to compete.

If she doesn't know, she should be told that eating out is at least twice as expensive as eating at home. Approach it from the economic angle. Buy her a good beginner's cook book and encourage her to try the simple things. And bear in mind, Buster, Mom's probably been at it for 25 years.

DEAR ANN: I've been arguing with my husband for two years about this one thing. Whenever we are out socially he never introduces me to the people who are there. I stand around like a wooden Indian and he greets everyone, shakes hands, and acts as if he came alone. Can he be ashamed of me or what? I've done everything but hit him over the head. I've kicked him in the leg, pinched him, nudged him — nothing works. You seem to have a solution for everyone. How about — ME

Dear You: The usual husbandly response to a furtive kick in the leg, a pinch or a nudge is a good loud "ouch" . . . so why don't you get smart?

Accept the fact your husband has some sort of a block about introducing you. He brings you along which indicates he's not ashamed of you — so rule that out. Simply introduce yourself. Extend your hand and say "I'm Zelda Zilch, Clyde's wife."

Driver Reports in Accident in Which Girl Was Injured

Kaukauna — Cornelius Vander Pas, 401 Eden avenue, reported Wednesday to police he drove the car which broke the collarbone of Cynthia Landreman, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Landreman, 215 Elm street. The accident occurred last Thursday, not Saturday, as Landreman reported to police.

Vander Pas told police the girl ran into the side of his car as he was driving on Main avenue about 3:30 p.m. The girl assured the driver she was all right and ran away before Vander Pas could get her name.

Cynthia's parents notified police Sunday after their daughter was unable to raise her arm.

Police said there will be no charge brought against Vander Pas.

Service Exchange Discussed by UCS Agency Forum

The social service exchange has been discussed by a United Community Services agency forum.

The Rev. Peter Klauck, director of the Appleton apostolate, a Catholic Welfare agency, told members that the exchange is only valuable if it is kept up-to-date. Father Klauck said that simplified forms have aided in doubling the number of cases handled. The agency forum also adopted a revised constitution. Nominating committee members appointed are Miss Inez Davis, nurse director of the Visiting Nurse association; Carl Bruno, youth program director of the YMCA; Alfred Eggert, director of the Outagamie county welfare department, and James Hogan, a caseworker for the Appleton apostolate.

Mrs. Marion Freemore is committee chairman.

Banker Hits Spending In Government Circles

Washington — Banker Marriner S. Eccles says the White House and congress could practice a little economy themselves as a check on inflation.

Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve board, told the senate-house economic committee yesterday that President Eisenhower is spending more than twice the amount former President Truman did to run the White House.

As for congress, he said, "The nepotism . . . and other extravagances are shaking the public confidence in the good judgment of our lawmakers."

Eccles, now a Salt Lake City banker, put most of the blame for inflation, however, on what he termed excessive re-election of elected president.

Two Architects Vie For UW Extension

Citizens Group Expects to Have Needed $45,000 Raised Soon

Oshkosh — Joint committees of the Winnebago and Outagamie county boards working on the University of Wisconsin extension center. Wednesday narrowed the number of architects being considered from nine to two. Still under consideration are Irion and Reinke, Oshkosh, and George Narovec and associates, Appleton.

The two county boards last month voted to erect the $500,000 center on the 20-acre mid-way road site in the town of Menasha, with the provision that the site is to be purchased and turned over to the counties and the sewer and water extended to the site by Appleton at no cost to either county.

St. Norbert Raises Pay For Faculty

Family Benefits Also Increased, Tuition Goes Up

A new salary scale, the result of more than two years of study, will go into effect next September for all full-time lay members of the St. Norbert college faculty. At the same time, a small tuition increase and a liberal student loan program will be instituted.

Announcement of the policy changes was contained in an 8-page report to members of the faculty, issued by the Rev. D. M. Burke, O. Praem., St. Norbert president. In every instance, the new salary scale is substantially above schools of comparable size.

On the basis of a 12-month salary scale, compensation will be determined both by rank and experience in that rank. Applicants for faculty posts at St. Norbert must hold at least a master's degree in their field of specialization.

Two separate pay scales—a master's degree scale and a doctor's degree scale—are set up in the new policy statement.

Three ranks have been established within the master's degree scale—instructor, with a salary range of $5,000 to $5,800; assistant professor, $5,800 to $6,800; and associate professor, $6,800 to $7,500.

On the doctor's level are four ranks with corresponding pay scales. An instructor will receive $5,600 to $6,800; an assistant professor, $6,800 to $7,500; associate professor, $7,500 to $8,500; and professor, $8,500 to $15,000.

Family Benefits
These figures, Father Burke emphasized, are basic salaries only. The family benefit program has been revised and liberalized.

Over and above basic salaries, the plan extends an additional annual allowance of $400 for a faculty member's wife, $300 for the first child and $200 for each additional child under 18 years of age. Service increments of $100 a year—five within the rank of instructor and four each within the rank of assistant and associate professor—are added to basic salaries.

To offset a percentage of the rising costs of education, including the increase in faculty salaries and the accompanying family benefits, the college administration has announced an increase of $50 per semester for tuition. This will bring tuition costs to $275 per semester.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hipke,

UW to Study Schools Here On New Grant

The Appleton public school system will be one of eight in the state studied by the University of Wisconsin school of education as the result of a $625,000 grant from the Ford foundation.

The study, details of which are not known as yet, will include a survey of the curriculum and teacher training programs. The Appleton system was contacted about permitting the study, but does not know its program.

John Guy Fowlkes, UW professor of education, is expected to direct the study and will appear before the board of education in May to offer more details of the plan.

The grant finances a 5-year experimental program for improvement of public schools. Dean Lindley Stiles, of the school of education, said the grant is the largest ever received by the university for education research. It will begin July 1 and run through June, 1964.

Philip Escher Dies Unexpectedly at Home

Philip Escher, 77, route 1, New Holstein, was found dead on the floor of his home at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Calumet county coroner Walter Hughes reported that Escher apparently died at 6 a.m. Wednesday, but his wife was incapable of reporting the death.

Hughes said that Escher had seen a New Holstein doctor Monday, and the doctor ordered him to bed. No doctor was in attendance after the death, Hughes said. He was unable to reach the New Holstein physician this morning. Cause of death is undetermined.

Escher was born Aug. 22, 1881, at Marytown, Fond du Lac county. He attended schools in Marytown and was a farmer most of his life.

Funeral services will be at 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Holy Rosary Catholic church, New Holstein. Burial will be in the parish cemetery. The rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday. Friends may call at the Erbe Funeral home, New Holstein, from 10 a.m. Sunday until services.

He is survived by his wife Margaret; two daughters, Miss Leona Escher, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Jerome Schwarz, New Holstein; one son, Clarence, New Holstein; four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Hansgen, Fond du Lac, Mrs. Frank Kleinhans and Mrs. Nic Kees, both of Hilbert, and Mrs. Joseph Pethan, Kiel; 14 grandchildren, and 14 great-grandchildren.

Real Success Hard Work, Says Actress

Tried for Career
In Teen Years

New York — People will tell Nan Martin, hailed by some as Broadway's actress of the year, she's lucky.

In reply Nan likes to quote a line from "J. B.," the play she currently is starred in: "It isn't lucky when God is good to you."

Nan Martin, a vibrantly slender woman with blue-hazel eyes and hair the color of time-mellowed ivory, is no sudden Cinderella.

"Nothing wonderful ever happens to you overnight," she said soberly. "There is a long process of hard work before you take the long stride, the big step."

Nan first tried for a footlight career here at the age of 17, shortly after graduating from the Santa Monica (Calif.) high school, where she was the only girl student president in the school's history.

Although she earlier had started studying drama with Max Reinhardt at 12, she first won attention in New York as a fashion model, and was featured on half a dozen magazine covers.

Brief Interlude

A role in "The Constant Wife" with Katharine Cornell launched her on her way, but then she married Robert Emmett Dolan, a young producer, and she quit to become "a fulltime wife." They moved to the west coast.

"It was a wonderful life," she said. "We had a house by the ocean. I painted, and learned to cook, and had a son. I was very domestic. I even made slippers in needpoint for everyone I loved."

"Then one day I found I had to go back to the theater. It was burning inside me. So back I came."

Former Kimberly Man to Appear on TV Commercial

Kimberly—Robert LaBerge, son of Mrs. Clara LaBerge, 217 N. Main street, will be featured in a commercial spot on the DuPont show of the Month, Channel 2, Saturday night.

The 39-year-old LaBerge is a research chemist with DuPont. He is a graduate of Lawrence college, Michigan State and Syracuse Universities.

LaBerge also will be mentioned in the March Popular Science magazine and the issue of Life for May 4.

LaBerge is married, the father of four children, and now lives in Magnolia, N. J.

Whites, Blacks, Browns Equally at Home in Africa

Nairobi, Kenya — Heaven knows it is difficult to speak a few kind words for colonialism these days without having your head bashed in, but there should be some differentiation between colonialism and exploitation.

To colonize, I suppose, means to make a community of and bring some sort of order to a place in which no order existed, by force or benevolent despotism. This process eventually should lead to a democratic process in which all hands who can pull their weight are adjudged equal.

To exploit, I suppose, is coldly to enter another man's country and place him into slavery, kill him off, and keep the foot constantly on his neck—all this for personal greed and profit.

Indians Deprived

In the exploitation department I suppose North America ranks first for what it did to the aboriginal Indian. We never made much of an effort to colonize the Red Man, and until very recently have deprived him of a great many civil rights, including the vote.

Nothing much that I have seen in the Africa I know compares very poorly with what I have seen among the modern Navajo, who might be termed a poorer Masai of America.

I doubt very much if fourth or fifth generation Americans would be willing to turn over the reins of government to a nomadic Navajo fresh out of a New Mexico hogan. Supposing we were still in the minority, as were the Pilgrims. I doubt we would want to give up a stake in a country we figured was up for grabs and devil take the laggard.

Roots of Colonialism

The white settler in Africa who has come in for so much abuse has been in these parts about 60 years. There is now a passel of third and fourth generation white Africans. They reckon they carved their homes, their very lives, out of virgin bush.

Their ladies birthed babies with one hand on a gun and a lion growling in the backyard. They cleared land and underwent plagues of locusts.

They figure they own as much a piece of the land as the people who had it for all these thousand of years and didn't do anything with it.

Whites New Home

They say, in short, that Kenya and Uganda and Tanganyika and Rhodesia are home to them as much as to the natives. The native position today is roughly that Africa belongs only to Africans, ignoring the Arabs, east Indians, and all the progress the non-Negro has brought to the country.

The settler, basically, has been a benevolent despot. He has been benevolent in that he has attempted to dissuade people from eating each other and has attempted to discourage Saturday night killing for fun and has tried to introduce improvements in hygiene, agriculture, land preservation, and the maintenance of the integrity of certain wild tribes which do not adapt readily to trousers.

His major fault, if it can be so capsuled, is that he hastened the process of civilization and removed the old controls. He created appetites without providing the means of satisfying them and he stamped on some old customs without providing interim amusement.

I cannot blame the colonist merely because he is not black or brown and the locals are black. Africa for the Africans is not a just slogan unless it includes the white and browns who consider themselves African, too.

Young Producer Dick Zanuck Follows In Father's Footsteps

BY HAL BOYLE

New York — It isn't easy to follow in the footsteps of a famous father.

But at 24, Richard Zanuck has taken his first big stride. His dad, Darryl F. Zanuck, has supervised more than 1,000 films, three times won the Irving Thalberg award.

It is "Compulsion," the story which closely parallels Chicago's greatest crime story of the 1920s, the Loeb-Leopold murder case.

Dick, a short athletic man whose neat mustache makes him look younger than his years, is well aware of both the perils and privileges of his name.

Under Budget

Dick is reasonably sure he did do a good job in his initial venture as a producer. He brought the picture in at $1,250,000—some $100,000 under budget—and shot it in 27 days, five under schedule.

And Dick isn't a bit bashful about admitting he sought the elder Zanuck's help.

"I asked dad's help on any number of points, and flew to Europe twice for conferences with him on the script. He has seen the completed picture, and is extremely high on it."

Dick Zanuck, despite his youth, is no beginner in the film industry. He's worked in every branch of it.

"I can't remember ever wanting to be in any other field," he said. "Even as a kid I attended movie conferences."

"I was raised around the studio and started selling newspapers there when I was 8. I also worked on the labor gang, in the story department, and in the advertising department."

"Requiem for Nun"

Before undertaking "compulsion," he served as an apprentice producer on "Island in the Sun" and "The Sun Also Rises."

Now a rising son himself, Dick already is planning his next picture. It will be "Requiem for a Nun," the only produced play of William Faulkner.

"It only ran five weeks on Broadway," said Dick. "But it's been an enormous success in Europe, and I feel it has a big screen potential."

Dick expects to stick to the producer's role, has no present desire to direct. He is strongly optimistic of film-dom's future, feels certain the advent of pay television will boom it tremendously.

"There is a lot of gloom in the industry," he said. "It is sad to see, but I don't know what it is all about. There is too much fear."

"Pictures today — the big pictures — are turning in the biggest grosses in history. The biggest need of the industry is to make more pictures for the present audience—which is the younger generation."

"Seventy-five per cent of movie fans are under 21. A lot of people lose sight of that."

Construction Too High

Dollars Wasted on School Buildings

Millions of dollars will be wasted this year in building and operating needlessly complicated schools, declares an engineering trade magazine.

The declaration is based on an analysis of three new secondary school buildings typical of modern design. The study was prepared by an engineer who has helped build more than 180 schools.

The study showed that construction, operation and maintenance costs of the three schools could have been cut by 25 per cent, while their efficiency as teaching and learning structures could have been increased.

Dollar savings were not the only consideration in the study. The unit most often used was dollars per unit of learning rather than dollars per square foot.

If the environment in a school cannot be satisfactorily controlled, then it does not achieve the basic function of learning, the magazine states.

Maximum Efficiency
For example, a student subjected to too much heat or too much cold is not learning as much as he could. Under the same conditions, the teacher cannot teach at maximum efficiency.

Five major simplifications are offered to cut waste. More compact design to reduce outside walls, cuts in the amount of space wasted in non-teaching areas, and reductions in the number of different roof levels, in the variety of main structural columns and in the amount of window area.

The article advocates a return to the most economical type building—a square. The perimeter of the average modern school is often twice that of a square building. This means the school is much more expensive to build and operate than it should be.

By reducing the perimeter, savings up to $100 a linear foot are possible. Also, with a square design, there would be fewer windows to wash, less pointing of masonry, less flashing and less heat loss.

The large glass areas so prevalent in today's school design make it impossible to provide comfort in the classroom, the magazine declares.

Cold Drafts
Because of the low temperature in the large glass-enclosed areas during the heating season, cold down drafts are produced as well as a cold floor. The normal secondary school now has 40 per cent of the exterior walls in glass. It should be reduced by half the amount.

The article points out that much has been written about using natural lighting for classrooms, thus saving on artificial lighting. Actually, the sky is overcast a large percentage of the time in many areas and most teachers turn on the lights in the morning and leave them on all day, regardless of the type of day.

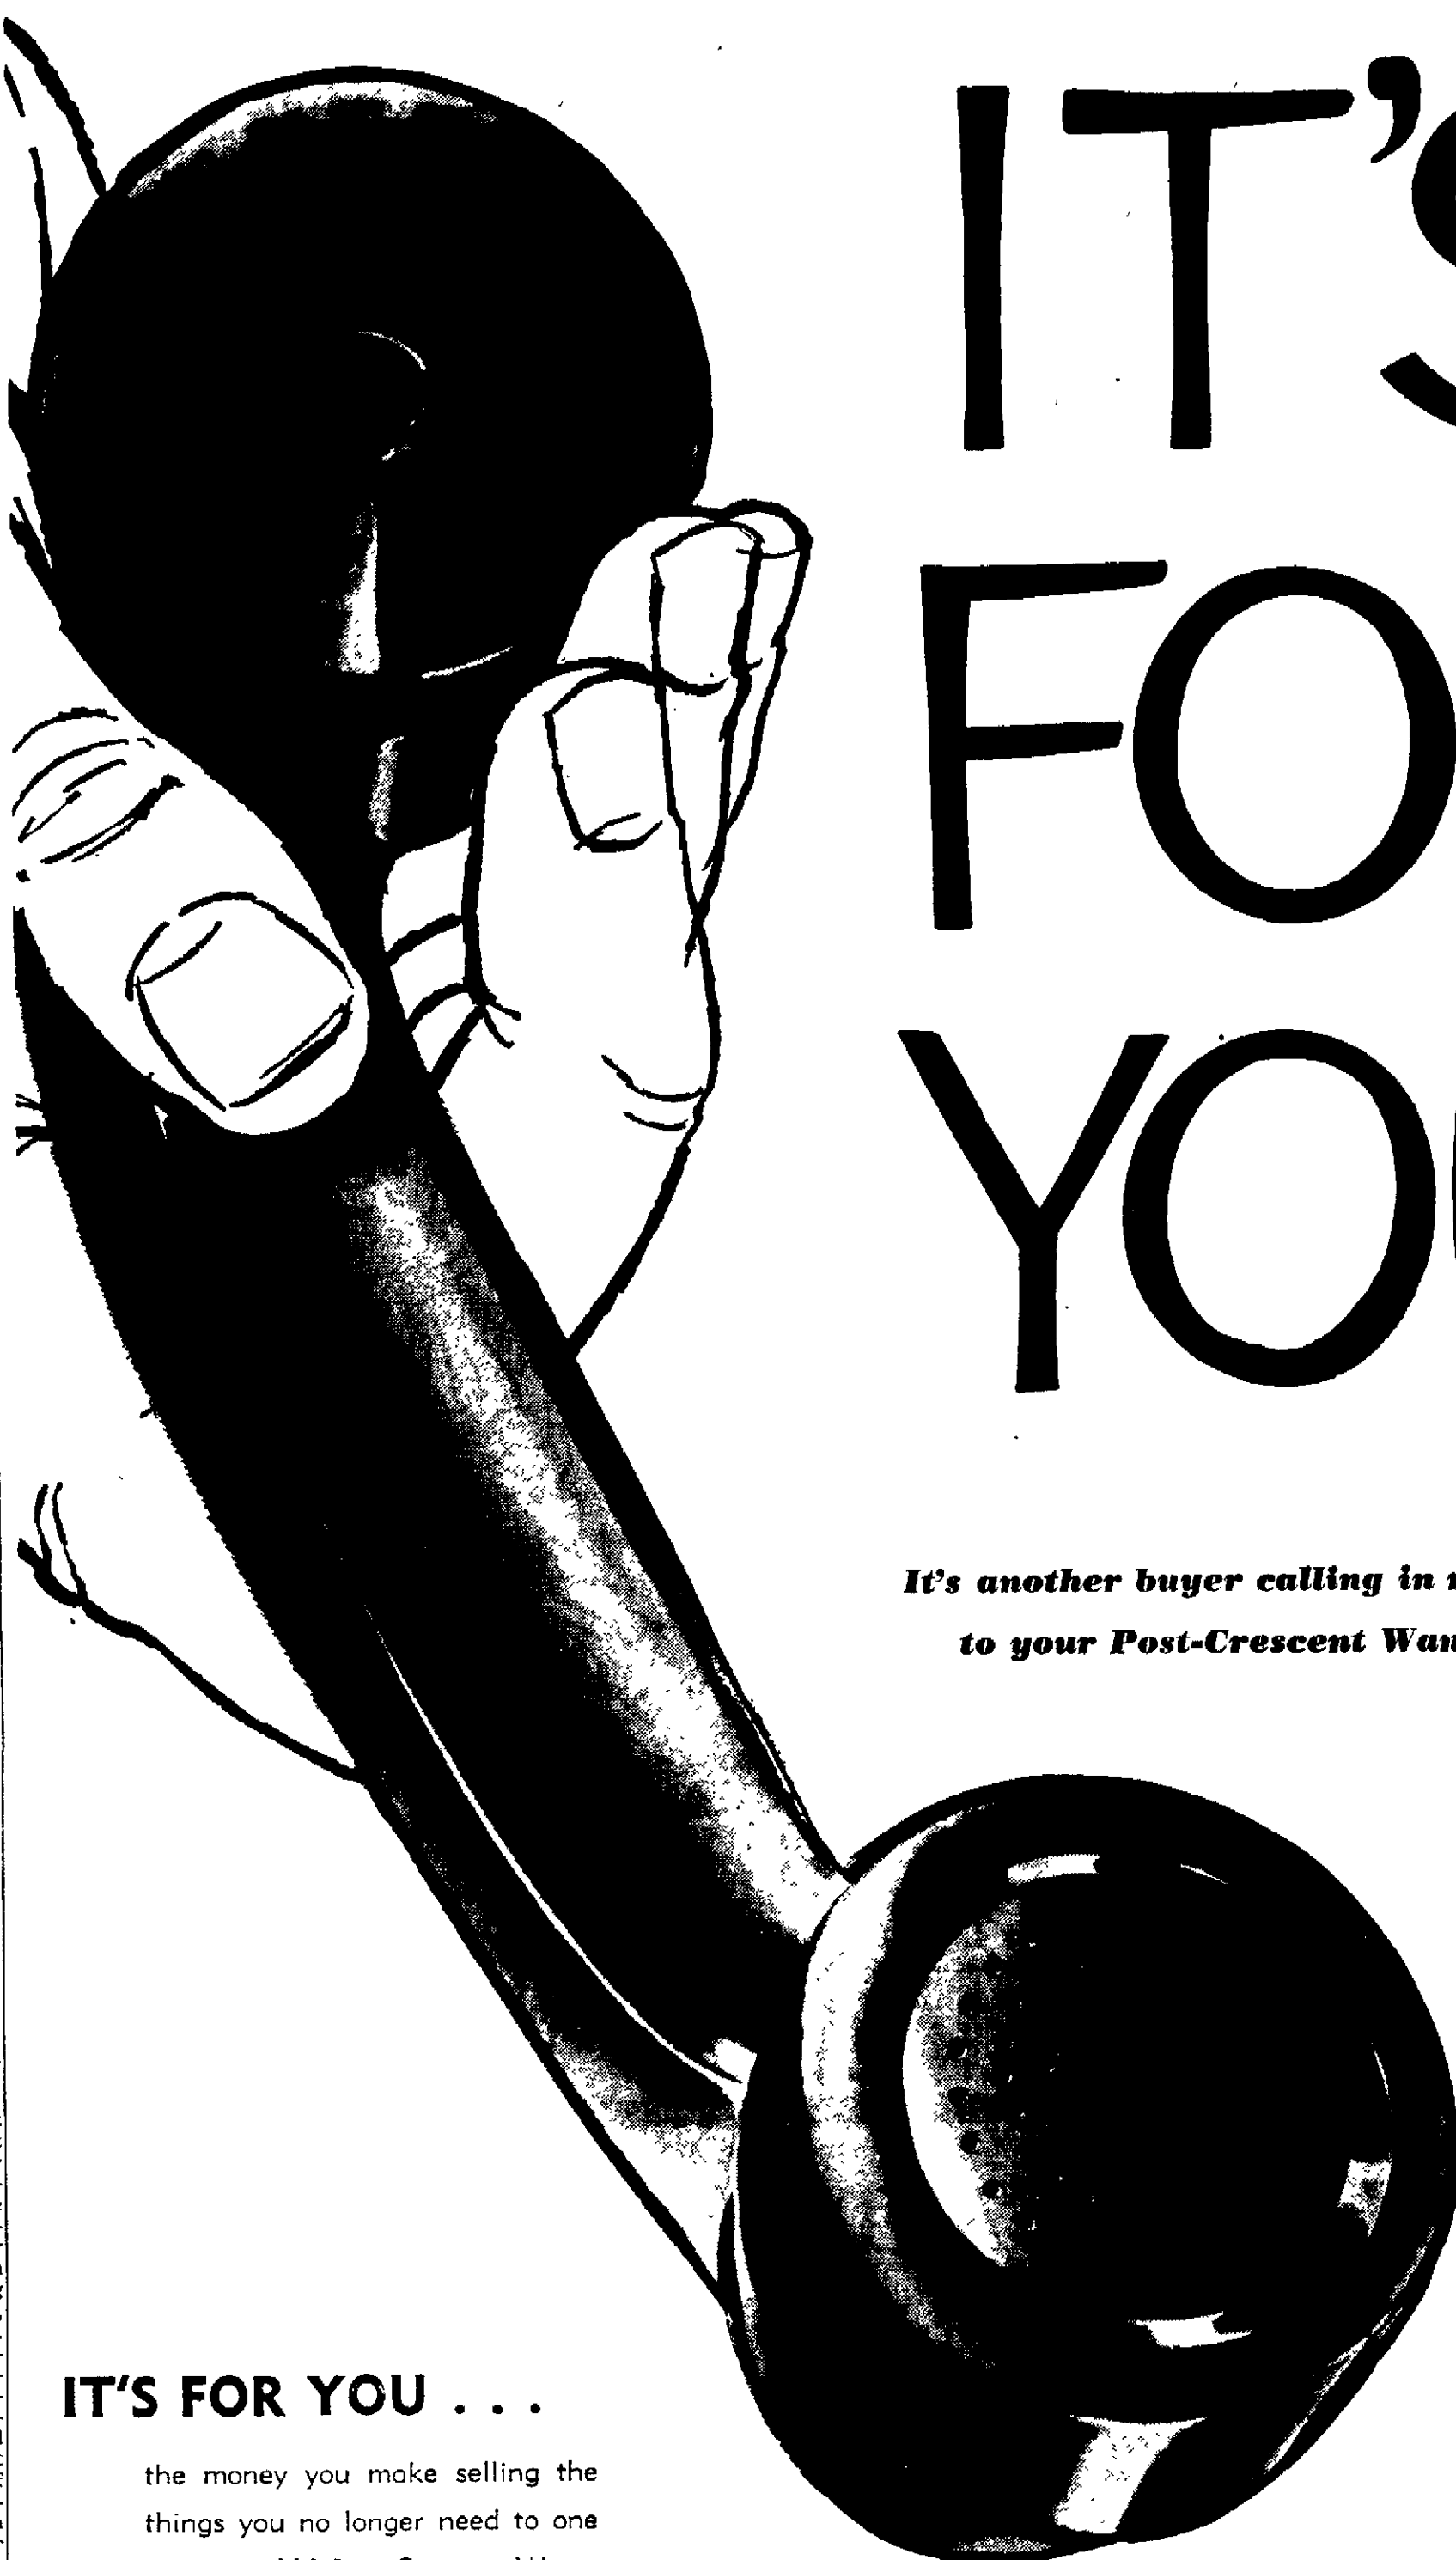

The average school designer, in an attempt to keep initial costs down, does not provide sufficient insulation. Because of the increase in fuel costs and because of comfort considerations, wall and roof insulation should be increased. The initial extra costs can be written off in about four years.

Other hints for more economical schools include:

A white reflective roof, which is often 40 degrees cooler than conventional roofs.

Weather-stripped exterior doors.

Vestibules at entrances to cut down on drafts.

Churches to Mark Christ's Death at Union Services

8 Parishes Join For Good Friday Worship Service

Neenah — Eight Twin City Protestant churches will join for a Good Friday devotional service from 12 noon to 3 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian church. Some churches will hold individual Good Friday services.

The union service will be on the theme of "The Seven Last Words from the Cross" and the worship period will be divided into seven parts with organ interludes between each part for worshippers to come or leave.

The call to worship will be by the Rev. L. Clarence Kelley of the First Methodist church at noon and the first period will be from 12:10 to 12:30 p.m. on the theme of "Father, forgive them for they know not what they do." The Methodist choir will sing Stainer's "Grove Not the Holy Spirit" and the meditation on "The Word of Forgiveness" will be by the Rev. Charles W. Luhn of St. Mark's Lutheran church.

"Verily I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with Me in Paradise" is the second word from the cross which will be the theme for the 12:30 to 12:55 p.m. worship period. Dr. William C. F. Hayes of the First Evangelical United Brethren church will speak on "The Word of Authority."

"Word of Remembrance" The third period from 12:55 to 1:20 p.m. will be on the theme of "Woman, behold thy Son! . . . Behold thy Mother." The choral presentation will be on "The Word of Remembrance" by the Rev. John C. Hanchett of the First Congregational church.

The 1:20 to 1:45 period will be on the fourth word from the cross, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" The Presbyterian choir will sing "Father, in Thy Mysterious Presence" by Kneeling-Thompson and the Rev. Harvey E. Norenberg of Immanuel's Evangelical and Reformed church will speak on "The Word of Submission."

The fifth period from 1:45 to 2:10 p.m. will be on the theme "I thirst" and a quartet from Immanuel's Evangelical and Reformed church will sing "Believe in God" by B. D. Ackley. Dr. John E. Bouquet of the Presbyterian church will speak on "The Word of Suffering."

Final Word The final word from the cross, "Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit," will be the theme for the closing period from 2:35 to 3 p.m. The musical selection will be "Go to Dark Gethsemane" by Noble and the Rev. Mr. Kelley will speak on "The Word of Confidence." Also aiding in the service will be the Rev. James Akin of the Presbyterian church.

The devotional service will be broadcast. Our Savior's Lutheran, which is without a pastor, will join in the service.

Calvary Baptist church will have a Good Friday communion service at 7:30 p.m. Friday with message by the Rev. Roland C. Aggers.

St. Thomas Episcopal church will have an ante-communion at the Good Friday rite at 9:30 a.m. and meditations on "The Seven Last Words" from 12 to 3 p.m. The way of the cross and meditation of Ormro.

Seymour Youth Struck by Car

The two youths were passengers in a car driven by Kenneth Dalke, 22, route 1, Black Creek. The car was stuck in a snowbank and the young men were attempting to free it. The two were struck as they walked around a large puddle on the highway.

Sics said he saw the car coming and told Woods to get out of the way, but Woods fell and was run over. Sics was hit by the rear fender of the car and thrown about 50 feet. Woods was pronounced dead of a skull fracture at St. Elizabeth hospital, where he and Sics were taken by Larry's Ambulance service.

Road icy Winnebago county police said the road was icy, but the weather was clear.

Other passengers in the Dalke car were Darwin F. Blohm, 20, 316 W. High street, Seymour, and Gary L. Wankey, 16, 1417 N. Owassa street, Appleton.

Wankey said he ran to a nearby home, pounded on the door and asked them to call an ambulance.

Winnebago County Sheriff Charles Lawry said no inquest would be held.

Woods was born Feb. 14, 1939, and lived for the last eight years with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ahsman, 409 M u e h l street, Seymour. He was stationed with the navy at Jacksonville, Fla.

The Muehl Funeral home, Seymour, has made tentative arrangements for funeral services at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Evangelical United Brethren church, Seymour, with burial in the city cemetery.

Wood is survived by his father, John, three brothers and five sisters, all addresses unknown.

Twin City Deaths

Mrs. Charles E. Stanton Neenah — Mrs. Charles E. Stanton, a former Neenah resident died Tuesday at Chicago. She was the former Flora Johnson who left here in 1910.

Funeral services were held today in Chicago. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. Friends may call at the West-gor Funeral home from 8:30 tonight until 3 p.m. Friday.

Survivors include two brothers, David Johnson, Taylorville, Ill., and Ernest Johnson, Chicago and one sister, Mrs. Arvida Offenlock, Chicago.

Extreme Caution Was Needed by Chicago and North Western wrecking crews as they used two derricks to hoist an overturned tank car of propane gas back onto its wheels at the Allenville derailment Wednesday. Twenty-one cars and three diesel units derailed a week ago and an extra track had to be laid so large cranes could place the overturned cars back on the tracks.

'Cult of Mediocrity' Hit

3 'Freedoms' Seen Imperative To Halt Dangerous U. S. Trends

Menasha — Death of three "freedoms" will "assure the destruction of the United States," in the view of Wyatte F. DeLoache, Chicago, who addressed the Wednesday noon Rotary club meeting at Hotel Menasha.

DeLoache, midwest manager of the extension division of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., spoke on the joint role in the American economy of scientific research and industrial technology.

The three imperatives, or "freedoms," necessary to those "who ask what kind of tomorrow do we want?" are to provide this country's economy with:

1. "Strong, competent, creative individuals — big in ability and in responsibility and dedicated to purpose."

2. "Team, or corporate, attack to solve problems so big they cannot be solved by individuals. This enhances the need for good, strong individuals," DeLoache observed.

Cited Gompers 3. Adequate capital. "More than ever before, we need the savings of many men and women to take the risks of growth." The speaker hailed the millions of Americans who invest their savings in industry while guaranteed no return on their outlays. "Sooner or later, they will refuse to invest if society castigates instead of rewarding them."

As an illustration of the ideal public attitude toward profit and fair return on investment, the du Pont executive quoted Samuel Gompers, 19th and 20th century labor statesman and founder of the American Federation of Labor, who strongly contended the "worst crime to the working people is for a company not to operate at a profit."

Four trends affecting "tomorrow" were identified, each of which, DeLoache stated, can be resolved through the right approaches.

The trends, or problems, as he saw them, are:

1. Rapid population growth in the United States. In 20 years, he predicted, the nation will assimilate more people than the combined populations of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Canada and Mexico.

2. Ever-decreasing percentage of the population working productively. The work force, said DeLoache, is "shrinking" since young people now tend to stay in school until later ages than before and because so many retire from their jobs instead of working until they die.

Near-Exhaustion 3. Orientation in this country toward "more and better" with respect to living standards.

ards. "No one dreams of Spartan retrenchment."

4 Near-exhaustion of many raw materials. He cited iron ore, now sought in many parts of the western hemisphere, after the "inexhaustible" deposits of the Mesabi range in Minnesota were depleted.

Two-thirds of the oil used by this country comes from the Middle East, which is the reason the United States is so interested in the area.

Inadequate water supplies in this country, he stated, place ceilings on growth in many areas. And more than a million acres of farm land a year are taken out of production permanently for homesites, roads, airports and other uses.

Further Complication

In the face of a diminishing supply of raw materials, said DeLoache, we are trying to increase the standard of living for a greater number of people, using a shrinking work force.

Further complication, he said, comes from losses by the side represented by the free and individual since World War II to collectivism and Communism.

Two factors, said DeLoache in the United States presently fight against continued growth—the "cult of mediocrity," which portrays as unacceptable those who stand out by stigmatizing their success, and the separation of the personal freedom and personal responsibility concepts.

DeLoache decried the "cultivated misunderstanding of profits" and the public's concept of "a relentless civil war in the business community," where big and small business are continually warring.

"Size of units," he said, "is determined by the functions performed. Big business needs the services, components and supplies from small business and small business needs the support of big business."

"Foredoomed"

"The most meaningful question for business is: 'Is the size adequate to do the job?' A 10-chair barber shop in a two-chair town is foredoomed. And a man with a million dollars still a lot of money, can't build cars. It takes more like 250 million."

"Today, there is a suggestion of some arbitrary size limit beyond which a business is not allowed to go," DeLoache cited the ancient Chinese custom of binding the feet of little girls to hold down their size, which resulted in crippling, suggesting the United States cannot afford thus to cripple industry.

"Risky"

For greatest development in this era, the du Pont executive said men of ability should organize in teams to work on a big scale on today's problems and they should be free to do so.

He concluded "It is risky for the best informed citizens to remain silent while the less-informed lead us toward destruction. Will we lose by default our wonderful existence as free men which no enemy has been able to take from us by force?"

Stores, Libraries, Offices to Close

Neenah — Most Neenah and Menasha stores will close from 12 noon to 3 p.m. on Good Friday, according to Gordon Drews, Orville LaSalle and Don Rippl, retail chairmen for the Neenah downtown, island and Menasha downtown business districts.

Placards for doors or store counters may be obtained from the chairmen or at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Both city offices and the libraries in each city will be closed also during that 3-hour period, city officials announced.

Select Chair Carefully for Comfort, Style

Oshkosh — The next time you are buying a chair, you can get both comfort and pleasing style if you make a careful selection. Chairs with simple lines are easy to clean and usually combine well with other types of furniture.

Keep in mind the size of your room and other furnishings. A small-size chair blends into a smaller room, but may look lost in a large room with bulky furniture.

The person who will use the chair should help pick it out and, to be the most comfortable, a chair should fit the person. One should decide whether you want solid wood, bent wood, plastic, metal, laminated wood or molded plastic.

Check the construction to see if the chair is strong and durable. An interlocking joint gives the greatest strength to wooden furniture. Be sure to get a finish that blends with the colors of other furniture in the room.

Tree Planting To be Outlined

4-H, FFA Members to Meet Tuesday With District Forester

Oshkosh — The 52 Future Farmers and 4-H members of the county who ordered seedling trees for project planting this spring will learn the newest methods at a meeting at the Winneconne central school at 8 p.m. Tuesday. Ron Herman, district forester of the state conservation department, will share in the meeting.

The meeting will cover tree care prior to planting, proper planting methods, post planting care, varieties, soil conditions, windbreak planting and basic steps on woodland management. An educational film will be shown.

Adult farmers who have ordered trees through the state conservation department or other private nurseries also may attend the meeting.

7,000 Trees Ordered

A total of 7,000 trees have been ordered by 4-H and FFA members this year and delivery is expected in late April. The trees are made possible without charge by the conservation department and must be used as part of the 4-H project or FFA farming program work. They will be planted as windbreaks, shelterbelts, establishing new wood lots or improving existing woodlots. Varieties ordered include Norway pine, white pine, white spruce and white cedar.

Four-H leaders working with members enrolled in the garden project in their local club also will meet at the Winneconne school Tuesday night to receive special help in the general area of gardening from County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky.

Woman Doctor Says Able Women Can Join Medicine, Motherhood

Toledo, Ohio — There's a definite place for women in medicine.

That's the opinion of Dr. Marian Rejent of the pediatric clinic at the Toledo Health center. She believes the day of prejudices against women in medical schools is over.

Dr. Rejent backs up her statements with a survey made by the American Medical association on how many women attended medical school and the number who are still active. The survey showed that more than 50 per cent are still practicing.

She discounts the theory that medical education of women is a social and economic loss.

A large percentage of women, she said, are putting to practice their medical education, in addition to being housewife and mother.

"It's true," she added, "that they drop out temporarily for pregnancy and children, but then they return to the medical field — filling jobs that male physicians do not want."

'Closes Gap'

In this capacity, the woman physician closes the gap for much-needed salaried workers in hospitals, medical schools, industry, government and public health.

Specialties most favored by women doctors, however, are pediatrics, with psychiatry and neurology second on the list, obstetrics and gynecology third, then internal medicine and anesthesiology.

Preference of women physicians for pediatrics is borne out by statistics. Of the 5,000 members of the American Academy of Pediatrics, 1,500 are women.

Dr. Rejent points out that regardless of the impressive advancement and mounting ranks of women physicians, the road to a medical career is not an easy one.

It includes four years of high school, four years of college graduating with a bachelor of arts or bachelor of science degree, and four years of medical school.

Warning

Dr. Rejent issued a few warning notes to girls and women thinking of entering the medical profession.

"Men in this field," she said, "recognize you for what you know. A woman doctor is treated on an equal basis with men. They're cooperative and expect the same cooperation."

Too many women in medical schools, she explained, attempt to compete with men physicians, and such competition is almost impossible in certain medical fields.

For example she said few women can take up surgery because of the physical limitations — such as withstanding the rigors of a four or five-hour operation.

Lawyers Oppose Court Reorganization Plan

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Lawyers of Brown and Waupaca counties Wednesday protested details of the state judicial council's latest version of Wisconsin court reorganization legislation. Developments at a legislative hearing suggested that the long campaign for Wisconsin judicial reform may be blocked again this year.

Major goal of the latest proposal is establishment of a uniform system of county courts, with at least one court for each county.

The Brown County Bar association objected that the three county court branches provided for Brown county would have the effect of destroying the highly useful civil court, set up 10 years ago to provide relief for the overcrowded circuit court.

The sponsoring Judicial council apparently met that objection when it endorsed a plan to create a second branch of the Brown county circuit court. It is understood that the plan is agreeable to Judge Rahr, who would run for election to the circuit court in 1961. The judicial reorganization is proposed to become effective in 1962.

More basic was the objection of the Waupaca county Bar association, as prepared by President R. E. Johnson and presented by Assemblyman Peterson of Waupaca, himself a lawyer.

The Waupaca lawyers objected to the $10,000 civil jurisdiction limit proposed for the county courts and to the proposed abolition of police justices.

Waupaca county police justices are now providing about 30 hours of court service weekly and to transfer that volume of work to the county court would mean an intolerable burden for the county judge and a costly inconvenience for lawyers and litigants in cities and villages distant from Waupaca, the legislators were told.

(Peterson recently sponsored successfully for the county bar an act which gives County Judge Wendell McHenry of the county court concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court of the district.)

The council bill had proposed three branches of the county court for Brown county, and two for Outagamie county.

Jaycees Give Scholarship to UW Extension

Vote Funds for Venetian Night Carnival Proceeds

Neenah — Members of the Neenah-Menasha Junior have voted to provide a $100 scholarship for some worthy student to attend the Menasha University of Wisconsin extension center during the 1959-60 school year.

The scholarship fund is one of a series of expenditures by the organization from money raised at concession stands at the 1958 Fourth of July Venetian festival celebration.

A Jaycee committee has been named to study the proper procedure in administering the scholarship fund.

Some of the Jaycees' annual activities in Neenah-Menasha are made possible by funds raised at the annual celebration.

Run Concessions
The local Junior Chamber was granted rights to operate the concession stands in return for providing manpower and planning for the Neenah celebration.

During 1958 and 1959, funds raised from the festival have been used for such activities as the teen-age drivers' road-eo, the junior tennis tournament, a Christmas shopping tour for underprivileged children, the My True Security essay contest for high school seniors and Twin City golf tournament.

In addition, $125 was donated to the Mentally Retarded association last October and parties for mentally retarded teenagers planned for the near future, also are financed from funds raised at the festival.

Blood May be Thicker Than Water, but Enough Is Enough

Miami, Fla. — Early Wynn, Chicago White Sox pitcher, is one of those regular guys when he's not on the mound but once he toes the rubber, opposing batsmen consider him one of the meanest men in the game.

And it makes no difference who is in the batter's box.

Wynn was speaking of the batting prowess of his 17-year-old son, Joey Early.

"I went to Comiskey park one morning last summer to pitch batting practice for him and he laid three of my good curves against the fence," said Wynn.

Asked how he reacted to such hitting, Wynn snapped: "How'd you expect me to react? I brushed the kid back good a couple of times."

Bank Fees Can be Cut By Patrons
Adding to Checking Account Is Suggested Way

BY SYLVIA PORTER
You're a typical middle-income bank customer if you maintain a regular checking account which you use to pay your bills and a savings account in the same bank into which you try to siphon as much cash as you can.

You may be wasting some of your own money by so doing because the low balance in your checking account is subjecting you to a monthly service charge. By transferring a sufficient sum from your savings to your checking account, you could in some cases offset the charge and save money.

"A depositor should talk to his banker about this and find out what amount might be needed to offset the costs," says George R. Amy, deputy manager of the American Bankers association. "It seems such a simple idea, but most people don't realize how to cut bank service charges."

In yesterday's column, I reported to you that bank service charges are going up all over the country and that the ABA is encouraging its member banks to analyze exactly how much each checking account costs so they can adjust charges accordingly. While I was discussing this with Amy, I said "Assume I'm a typical checking account depositor and that I'm throwing away money by not handling my account properly. Tell me ways I can save by minimizing the charges."

This he did and here they are—10 money-saving hints for you on bank checking accounts.

(1) The first you've just read. If you have both a regular checking and a savings account in the same bank and because of its low balance your regular account is being subjected to a service charge, check the amount of interest you receive on savings against the charges on your checking account to see if a transfer of funds will save you money.

(2) If you're paying off several monthly debts—each with a separate check, of course—it may be feasible to consolidate the debts and pay with one check. Banks charge from 2 to 7 cents for each check.

(3) Similarly, if you're in the habit of writing lots of little checks ($5 here, $10 there), change your habit now. Write one big one and allocate your spending to carry you through a specified period.

Charge Per Check
(4) If you can't maintain a balance of several hundred dollars in a regular account and you don't ordinarily write more than five or 10 checks a month, you'll probably save money by shifting to a special checking account. In a special account no minimum balance is required and the charge is per check as a rule—usually 10 cents a check.

(5) On the other hand, if you do maintain a large balance and do write lots of checks, a special account is not for you and if you have one, switch to a regular account. Said Amy "One banker told me of a depositor who had a special checking account in which he kept a balance of over $10,000. A ridiculous waste of money."

(6) Keep down the number of individual deposits in your checking account. More and more banks are imposing and raising charges on each deposit ticket.

(7) If the practice in your family is to have two or more little checking accounts—for convenience, discipline or some other reason—consider consolidating them into one fairly substantial account. This not only may save on charges but also may enhance your credit standing at the bank you favor and help you get loans at more favorable rates.

Asks Advice
(8) If you're opening a new account, ask your banker what type of account will best fit your needs and be least costly to you. Because a type of account is well publicized doesn't mean it's the one for you.

(9) Ask your banker about miscellaneous service charges. There are many types which you could avoid if you knew about them.

(10) Review your canceled checks for the past few months, counting the number, the totals, etc. This will help you tighten up your account activity.

The vital point is that millions of us are paying service charges unnecessarily and the charges are on the way up. It's only common sense money management to use these guides to minimize the expense.

Ripon Lamb Pool Dates Picked by 4-County Group
Oshkosh—Every third Tuesday forenoon from June 16 to Dec 1 will be the dates for the Ripon lamb pool. It was decided at a 5-county meeting Tuesday night at Ripon.

A specially trained lamb grader will be on hand on those days and the farmers may have the opportunity, after knowing the price and grade of their lambs, to return them for further finishing if their aim is for a choice or prime grade.

The lamb market referred to as a lamb pool because of its set marking days, was the first in Wisconsin. It was started in 1954.

Lloyd Jones, route 4, Oshkosh, a Winnebago county delegate, was reelected president. Other officers are Clarence Ford, Endeavor, vice president, and John O'Donovan, Waupun, secretary. Harold Miller, route 2, Neenah is the county's other committee member. Other counties taking part are Fond du Lac, Green Lake, Dodge and Marquette.

Be Whimsical for Easter

Post-Crescent Food Editor

Whimsical Cooks come into their own at a holiday such as Easter.

It's spring . . . it's the season to be joyous . . . and it's a chance to whip up clever table decorations . . . Easter bunny surprises to delight the young fry.

The ever popular bunny can brighten the season with a minimum of expense and effort. He's a friendly fellow who can be put to many uses . . . as part of a centerpiece . . . as a cake decoration . . . place card holder . . . party favor or whatever.

Fashion may come into the picture with an Easter bonnet doll for decoration or eating. Bonnet cookies and sandwiches add a clever touch to a party and make delightful holiday food.

Egg-shaped decorations may be hard-cooked eggs, decorated with water colors and bits of glued on ribbons and fabric, or dressed up plastic lemons of the squeeze variety that

Here is what to do to turn them into decorations.

A block of styrofoam is good for a base and the cap side of plastic lemon goes down into this base to hold the head.

Next, with a sharp knife cut two slits at the top of the head where bunny ears of felt or paper may be inserted. Two slits are made to hold the whiskers which are pipe cleaners, inserted in the slits.

The bunny face is painted white, then on go eyes, big eyelashes and red mouth. Four pieces of felt make excellent ears and they can be made to stand perkily upright after being inserted in ear slits.

Felt makes a good collar to paste around the styrofoam base and presto, the Easter bunny decoration is complete. If hard-cooked eggs are used, the materials must be pasted on the egg with sturdy glue. For an Easter bonnet girl, a doll hat may be used, or inventive young fry may fashion their own variations from a boxful of bright yarn, felt, fabric and jewelry scraps.

A chocolate brownie-type cake is used for the Easter Bunny Cake that is shaped into a bunny's head by making a simple mold of heavyweight quilted foil. The face is decorated with walnut meats for eyes, nose and mouth. Here is the recipe:

Easter Bunny Cake
2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup broken nutmeats
Walnut halves and quarters

Quilted heavyweight foil
Trace a simple bunny's head on a rectangular piece of heavyweight quilted foil, measuring 14 by 8 inches. Cut out the pattern and turn up the edges one-inch all the way around. Now cut three strips of foil 14 inches long and two inches wide. Fold these in half lengthwise and fit over the upturned edges of the mold to make a firm, double side. Place on cookie sheet.

In saucepan over low heat, melt chocolate. Remove from heat and add shortening, sugar, unbeaten eggs, flour and vanilla. Beat well until fluffy and light in color. Still in broken nutmeats.

Spread dough evenly in bunny pan. Make a face with walnut halves and quarters for the eyes, nose and mouth.

Bake in a moderate 350-degree oven for about 25 minutes or until a dull crust forms on top and slight imprint will be left when touched lightly.

are water cress sprigs and colorful berries.

- Bonnet Sandwiches
 1 Carton cream-style cottage cheese
 2 teaspoons lemon juice salt
 20 slices bread
 2 drops yellow food color
 2 drops green food color
 2 drops red food color
 16 slices unpeeled cucumber
 16 sprigs watercress
 24 berries (your own choice)

Beat cottage cheese to make as creamy as possible, add lemon juice and a dash of salt.

Cut circles from 16 bread slices, using a 3-inch cookie cutter. Cut four circles from each remaining four bread slices, using a 1 1/2-inch cookie cutter.

Divide cottage cheese mixture into four equal parts and add one color to each of three parts, leaving fourth part white.

Spread four large and four small circles of bread with each color of cottage cheese mixture. Place a cucumber slice in center of each large bread circle. Top with small bread circle spread with same color of cottage cheese, placing them with their spread sides up.

Decorate "bonnets" by arranging a watercress sprig and three or four raspberries or blueberries on one side of each hat. Makes 16 servings.

Broiled Scallops

Use fresh or thawed frozen scallops. Dip in slightly beaten egg diluted with a little water, and roll in seasoned fine dry crumbs. Arrange in greased overproof pater, and dot with butter or bacon drippings. Broil 10 minutes, about three inches from heat. Turn once during cooking.

Easter is a Natural Time for showing off culinary talents. What better way than fashioning Easter bonnet sandwiches such as these? They are not only a clever idea, but as edible as they are pretty.

Egg Prices Tumble For Easter Holidays

Spring Flocks Promote Price Decline; Ham, Fowl Inexpensive, Seasonal

More chickens laying more eggs this year means that housewives will find their food stores crammed with good eggs at low prices. Egg supplies are expected to continue climbing until fall, when farmers will reduce the size of their laying flocks by weeding out aged hens.

The trend to larger flocks because of lower feed prices is reflected in egg prices in Appleton groceries. Large grade A eggs are 39 cents a dozen this week, pound for pound a better buy than medium eggs. Last week they ranged from 49 to 51 cents a dozen.

With Easter only two days away, food buyers should be happy to learn that hams are a good buy. Canned hams are 69 to 90-plus cents a pound, and tenderized ham picnics range from 39 cents a pound up.

Chicken Good
 A second and continuing good buy from the meat counter is chicken. Fryers are 39 cents a pound. Turkey, too, is considered an excellent holiday purchase at 43 cents a pound.

Other meat prices remain comparatively high. Sirloin steaks are $1.05 a pound, round steak 89 cents and pork chops 69 to 83 cents. Your best meat buy in the beef and pork range is pork steak at 59 cents a pound.

Fancy vegetables, to spruce up the holiday menu, are being shown this week. Broccoli is an excellent and attractive purchase at 19 cents a bunch. Fresh cauliflower, good as a second main dish when served with special sauces, is rather expensive, but attractive at 39 cents a head.

Asparagus Nice
 Asparagus is a good holiday vegetable with prices ranging from 20 to 35 cents a pound. Consumers should watch the quality of the bunches. Slender stalks and succulent, pink-green tips are your guideposts to good asparagus.

Cabbages are expensive, from 7 to 10 cents a pound. Cucumbers are high at 15 cents a pound.

Potatoes, traditionally included on all holiday menus, can be spruced up by stuffing, ricing, or made au gratin. Idaho bakers come at 55 cents for 10 pounds. Wisconsin whites are 3 cents a pound.

Off-Season Fruits
 A few out-of-season fruits are appearing on Appleton food shelves. Honeydew melon could make a fine holiday treat, although its price is somewhat high for everyday consumption. The lovely green fruit is 59 cents a melon.

Food buyers can also find a few poor quality peaches and plums at 19 cents a pound. Holiday buyers might find them useful for fresh fruit salads.

Bananas range from 2 pounds for 25 to 29 cents, a fair buy for this time of year. Bananas seem to be of good quality.

Apples Fair Buy
 Apples are nearing the end of their season, subsequently the prices are only fair. Wine-saps are 4 pounds for 59 cents; Delicious, 20 cents a pound — a good buy; and Rome Beauties, 40 cents a pound.

Good buys are available in for 75 cents. Grapefruit rang-citrus fruits. Navel oranges from 10 pounds for 59 cents range from 40 cents to 79 for white to 2 pounds for 29 cents a dozen. (Check the for pink. Grapes are considered proximity of the pock marks. ered rather high at 29 cents The closer the marks, the a pound.

Waffles May Be Served For Any Meal

While waffles are generally considered a Sunday breakfast treat, they are just as good for lunch.

They may be served with any creamed meat as a first course and then with syrup, sugar and cinnamon, or jam for dessert. Several waffles may be spread with butter, soft brown or maple sugar, then put together in four or five layers and sliced into portions. If you like, the sugar may be mixed with sour cream or whipped cream.

Rich Waffles
 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 cup shortening, melted
 3 eggs, well beaten
 1 1/2 cups milk
 Mix and sift dry ingredients. Stir shortening into well-beaten eggs. Add milk. Stir in dry ingredients, all at one time, beating until smooth. Bake in hot waffle iron until no steam escapes between edges.

Fluffy Waffles
 2 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 3 egg yolks
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1/3 cup butter, melted
 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
 Sift the flour, salt, and baking powder together into a mixing bowl. Add egg yolks. Stir in milk gradually. Add melted butter and fold in beaten egg whites. Bake in hot waffle iron until no steam escapes between edges.

Rice Pudding One Dessert That's Liked or Disliked

Rice pudding! You either like it or dislike it. It usually depends upon how you were conditioned in childhood. Fortunately, it has more friends than foes, especially if the family recipe was the simple oven-baked dessert known as "poor man's pudding."

Old-Fashioned Rice Pudding
 1 cup rice
 1 quart milk
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup sugar
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 Combine all ingredients and pour in buttered 1 1/2-quart slow 250-degree oven about two hours, stirring at least three times during the first hour to break crust that forms.

Do not stir during last hour of cooking. Chill before serving.

Variation: Add one-half cup raisins before baking.

Horseradish Seasons Jelly Glaze for Ham

With fork, stir one-half teaspoon dry mustard and two tablespoons prepared horseradish into one cup red jelly.

About one-half hour before ham is done, score entire fat surface and spread with part of jelly glaze. Continue baking, adding rest of glaze in two or three applications (about every 10 minutes) during rest of baking.

Do not baste ham with glaze that has run down into the drippings. It dulls the luster.

Tops in Nutrition

Two eggs supply as much as 30 per cent of the high-quality protein needed daily by adult men or women. One of nature's most nearly perfect foods, eggs combine heavy concentration of high-quality protein with relatively few calories, complete digestibility, and are accepted as an important dietary requirement from infancy through the "golden age" group.

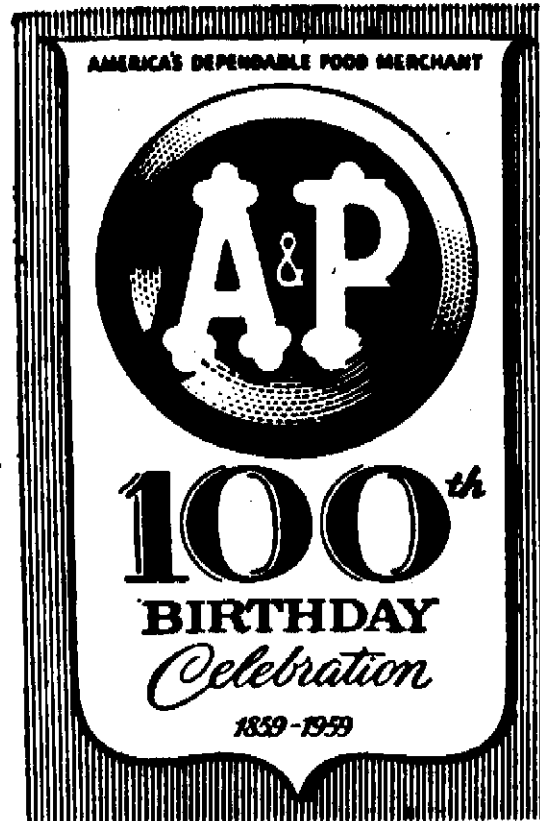

Juice oranges are 8 pounds for 75 cents. Grapefruit rang-citrus fruits. Navel oranges from 10 pounds for 59 cents range from 40 cents to 79 for white to 2 pounds for 29 cents a dozen. (Check the for pink. Grapes are considered proximity of the pock marks. ered rather high at 29 cents The closer the marks, the a pound.

Can't Spell Worth Beans, Say Teens, But They Think It's Important

BY EUGENE GILBERT

"I before e, except after c." Or is it the other way around?

Many teenagers admit they're not sure—about this or the other old guides to better spelling.

We asked 627 youngsters to rate themselves as spellers. Only 53 per cent considered themselves good, while 30 per cent said they are fair. The remaining 17 per cent said their spelling is pretty hopeless.

But 90 per cent put a high value on good spelling.

"Misspelling," said Scott Bradford, 16, Exeter, N. H., "is as bad as being illiterate."

Typically, many of the poor spellers blamed others—school, teachers, word irregularities. But a surprising number candidly admitted they had only their own poor study habits to blame.

Only half of the teenagers said their schools conduct spelling classes, while only 60 per cent believed their English teachers put enough importance on good spelling.

The youngsters agreed that poor spelling can detract from school marks as well as a person's business life.

Almost nine out of ten of the teenagers said their parents think good spelling is important, but only six out of ten said their parents keep after them to improve.

Andy Jackson, 16-year-old Detroit boy, said his parents tell him "it is a sign of slipshod thinking to spell poorly."

But some of the teenagers said their parents can't spell and rely on them when a word has them stumped.

How They Do It
In trying to pinpoint the difficulties in spelling, we came up with the following: Three out of ten admitted spelling problems arise from their own neglect in studying. Some find it hard to concentrate.

Other reasons that rank high are irregularities in spelling, inadequate training in school, and just plain indifference.

The good spellers had reasons for their skill. "There's no trouble if you think about what you're doing," said Karen Boswell, 17, St. Louis, Mo.

Back to Fundamentals
This idea of learning to spell by going to the very roots of the English language, 18, Lakewood, Ohio, who was popular among good spellers.

"Let them read their own language and others, that they may learn spelling through memory and knowledge of derivations rather than through ridiculously non-existent rules," said R. Gordon, 17, Belmont, Mass.

Most of the youngsters put it squarely up to the individual. Only one or two of the good spellers suggested that schools should do more.

Perhaps all of the poor spellers would be wise to heed the advice of Jan Woods, 18, Lakewood, Ohio, who warned: "You'd better know how before you get to college. They can flunk a good paper because of one misspelled word."

Inexpensive Meats

Breast of lamb can be delicious when braised with vegetables, and this cut is comparatively inexpensive. Chickens which were once considered only a Sunday specialty are so reasonable in price that we use them often, as everybody likes the tender broilers available today.

Yams Plentiful, Serve With Ham

Yams, so plentiful just now and of such good quality, go so well with smoked ham, and an inexpensive cut such as a butt or a hock may be chosen.

For the recipe given today, the mushrooms and peas may be omitted as ingredients, if you like, and other vegetables served on the side. Another good combination is leftover cooked ham with mashed yams, flavored with canned pineapple and orange juice. This makes an interesting casserole for a lunch or a Sunday night supper.

Ham Hocks with Yams
2 to 3-pound smoked ham butt and bone
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
4 cups sliced, pared yams
1 cup diced celery
2 medium onions, sliced
1 1/2 cups sliced mushrooms
1 1/2 cups peas

2 cups diced apples
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
Remove ham from bone. Dice ham and brown in oil. Add bone, water, salt and pepper. Cover and cook 30 minutes.

Add yams, celery, onions, mushrooms, peas and apples. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender.

GOP Hit Hard by Lack of Money

Anger, Anti-Nixon, Policy Factors in Republican Plight

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — The Republican party is suffering the all but novel experience of being badly short of money for the 1960 presidential and congressional campaign. Worse yet, the ordinarily reliable sources are still showing no sign of being prepared to give generously.

This may be the most significant single political fact of today. It is even more important, though less dramatic, than the slowly developing personal contest between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York for the 1960 presidential nomination.

For it has never been any secret that, by and large, raising adequate money has not been to the Republicans anything like the painful problem it has usually been to the Democrats. This has been particularly true in those periods when Republican administrations have been in power.

Trickle of Contributions Now, however, though the Republicans do quite undeniably still hold the White House, the plain fact is that contributions to the party are hardly above a trickle. This can be said with total confidence after a good deal of snooping about. Naturally, neither party is anxious to discuss its cash register in public except on occasions where special needs overcome all reticence.

The most striking part of the thing is that checks to the GOP from the so-called Wall street crowd are now just about as grudging as those from smaller business.

This Wall street crowd, the very, very rich internationalist industrialists and bankers from the East, formed the financial core of the original pro-Eisenhower movement in the party. The orthodox and predominantly mid-western Republican smaller-business men were never enthusiastic about this administration. The fact that these are now sitting on their checkbooks is thus not so unsettling. But it is an unkind cut, indeed, that the big Eastern fellows, as sometimes they are called, are doing much the same thing.

Basic Problem All this presents a truly basic, and possibly a frightening, problem to the GOP.

For the general readiness of business to contribute to the party has been its greatest financial surety. More recently, for example, the financial sheet anchors of the Democrats have been the vast labor unions. And while business money refuses these days to move in any impressive sums into the GOP, the Republican pros entertain the most lively and gloomy suspicions that the Democrats will feel no equivalent drought from their labor sources.

It is, of course, far too early to suppose that the GOP will actually be starved out in the 1960 campaigns. Indeed, all history suggests that even the most worry-prone Republican partisan need not have anything like so extreme a fear. All the same, it is a fact that those who must raise the money are feeling the increasing twinge of anxiety.

What, then, has happened within the grand old party to cause so many to withhold so many contributions? These are among the explanatory factors:

1. Some are holding back in exasperation and anger at the very poor showing of Republican congressional candidates last November.

2. Some are playing it close to the chest because the GOP national committee is essentially a pro-Nixon group. No doubt they wish to avoid getting too close to the present Nixon-led party organization in case Gov. Rockefeller should defeat Nixon at the 1960 convention and thus become the new party king.

3. Some are muttering in anger at the Republican party because of disenchantment with the Eisenhower administration and with some of its policies. Specifically, a good many businessmen are privately furious at the justice department under Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers. They accuse him of brandishing threats of federal anti-trust suits before corporations almost as frequently as in the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Almost as bad as the New Deal," they growl. And this to them, is the ultimate in epithets.

Three Greek Specialties Noted for Easter Dinner

BY FRANK KOHLER

Want to give your Easter dinner a Greek touch this year? Here are some delicious ideas on the subject.

Kohler

Taramosalata, says M. Eugene Fodor, chairman of our European Skillet club, is Greek caviar appetizer. Don't ask us to pronounce it!

Anyway, you soak one cup of white bread crumbs in water, then press them dry. Next, beat in one-half pound red caviar until a smooth paste is formed. Slowly beat in one cup olive oil, one beaten egg yolk and six tablespoons lemon juice at the last. Serve cold in a well-chilled bowl, with accompanying wafers.

Soupa Avgholemono
A Greek lemon soup. This recipe is from the noted Greek actress, Aliki Nord.

2/3 cup white rice, washed
2 egg yolks, well beaten
Juice of 1 lemon
Salt and pepper to taste

Bring broth to a boil, add rice, reduce heat, and let simmer until rice is tender. Beat the egg yolks, and beat lemon juice into them. Stir a little hot soup into the beaten eggs, then stir all back into the soup, simmer one minute more, and serve hot.

Enthrather is the Greek method of roasting lamb. This is new to us, but good.

Enthrather

1 Leg of lamb.
Salt and pepper to taste.
Juice of 1 lemon.
2 onions, halved.
2 cloves garlic, split.
2 bay leaves.
3 fresh mint leaves (or a sprinkling of dried mint).
4 thin slices sharp aged cheese.

Have ready a large square of heavy weight aluminum foil of sufficient size to wrap the lamb completely and tightly. Rub lamb with salt and pepper and moisten with lemon juice. Place in the center of the foil, along with the onions, garlic, bay and mint leaves. Place the cheese slices on the meat, lift the foil around the meat, and pour in the wine.

Crimp foil carefully together to seal thoroughly, place in a 450-degree oven and bake (or roast) 20 minutes. Reduce temperature to 325 degrees and roast four and one-half to five hours, depending on size of meat.

Make a rice pilaf to accompany this, dry it well in the oven, and top it with plain yogurt and browned butter. Karidopita is Greek Walnut

Flavor Hint That's Borrowed From Spain

File this away as a flavor-combination trick borrowed from the Spanish: Orange juice, a pinch of cinnamon and Spanish sherry are wonderful go-togethers. Use the combination in stews (with chicken or veal), in sauces, in punches or in tall iced drinks.

Crake, one we think is outstanding, by the way.

Karidopita
1 pound ground walnuts.
1 box salt crackers, ground fine. (1 small box)
1 cup sugar.
12 eggs, well beaten.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 tablespoon vanilla.
Mix all well together, pour into a greased pan, and bake at 375 degrees until done. Let cool. Do not cut until cold. Pour simple sugar syrup over when serving. We make the syrup by boiling two cups of sugar and two cups of water until syrup forms. Just takes a few minutes.

It Has Become a Happy new year for a young Hungarian couple who arrived in Appleton, their new home, on New Year's eve. They met in Canada after she fled from Hungary during the 1956 revolt. Julius and Magdalena Benko are shown above at their work as chemists at the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research league.

Wife Fled Revolt

Hungarian Couple Find Happy New Year Opening in Appleton

BY MARY JENSEN

It has been a happy new year for a young Hungarian couple who arrived in Appleton on New Year's eve. Magdalena and Julius Benko met in Canada shortly after her arrival in Toronto where she had fled from Hungary during the violent revolt against the communist regime in 1956.

Though Magdalena and Julius were born in Hungary, he left his homeland 15 years ago, working in Austria, Belgium and Canada as a chemist. Magdalena, however, lived with her family in the village of Debrecen.

Later, after five years of university study for a degree in chemistry, she moved to work in a town on the Hungarian border near Austria. When the revolution suddenly broke out, she said, people hoped that it would do some good and that they would not have to leave their homes. They put off leaving. It was to no avail.

"We had only for a few days this hope and we must give it up," she lamented in heavily accented speech.

Although Magdalena was living 180 miles from Budapest, the center of the battle and bloodshed, she realized that she must leave Hungary. She animatedly declared that only during the revolution was escape possible without extreme danger. Before and after the fighting, the border was heavily patrolled and infested with deadly mine fields.

"A girl friend of mine tried it in 1951 and landed in prison for two years," said Magdalena.

So, with a suitcase holding one dress, Magdalena left her homeland with a young couple. She had not seen her family since her father's funeral five months before. Her mother and sister remained in Hungary. Her brother, Alexander, had fled in 1944, going to Toronto.

Within a few short days, Austria was flooded with more than 200,000 Hungarian refugees. Magdalena was one of them. Through the aid of some friends, she and her companions were lodged at a hotel for three weeks, then she left on a crowded train for Switzerland.

She had a job and that was all. Her friends had remained in Austria. She worked in a chemical factory in a small Swiss village and much of the time was lonely, lacking friends and not knowing the language.

Ticket to Canada
The start of her new life came when her brother sent her an airplane ticket to Canada. Without much delay or red tape she left her country event further behind, with no idea of her future. She arrived in Toronto in July, 1957, and lived with her brother. She could not get a job for three months. "It was difficult at first. I don't like anybody to give me money. I would like to earn it myself," she said earnestly.

Things became increasingly better for the young refugee, who spoke only Hungarian and a little German. She met her future husband, an intensely serious young man with impervious eyes and subtle red hair. Both were chemists. Both were Hungarians. Both shared an intelligently arrived at and firm stand against communism. Eight months ago they were married.

"I tried communism for 12 years," said Magdalena. "I grew up with it." Julius, who left his home when the communists were forcibly taking a foothold in the Hungarian way of life, remarked "Communism is not a nice thing to live with, or under or to coexist with."

Both like Appleton and call it "a quiet, provincial town." They agree that big city life is not for them. The Benkos are lignin chemists at the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research league and live at 215 S. Memorial drive.

They present a sharp contrast to young married couples of this country in some instances. Julius is appalled at the influence of television, explaining that he has seen intelligent people engulfed by the leisurely pastime and lose some of their mental acuity.

Converse in Hungarian

The Benkos speak Hungarian at home most of the time, and he is not yet satisfied with his wife's mastery of English. She teasingly said that she feels TV would help her learn, parrying his denouncement with "later on we buy TV for learning English—if you wish I learn English—buy it!"

The Benkos are not used to great amounts of leisure time, and do not want it. "Two nights a week wasted is all right," says Julius, who spends all other evenings reading technical literature to aid him in his job. This way, he feels, he will gain from learning and his employers will benefit from his new knowledge. Magdalena spends her evenings the same way.

Julius speaks German, French, English and some Italian and Spanish. He enjoys photography and develops his own pictures.

In comparing the European and American educational systems, Julius asserted that "students have a very nice life here with lots of fun." The European student has to work harder and often spends as many hours studying after school as were spent in school.

Youngsters Enjoy Desserts That are Fancy on Easter

BY EDITH M. BARBER

Sunday dinner on Easter day is usually something special. Perhaps some of the young people are home from school and have brought a friend or two for the short holiday. In any case, they will enjoy a fancy meal as a change.

Whether Barber they have been away from home or not, youngsters appreciate elaborate desserts. While mothers are busy enough preparing simple plentiful meals for every day they will feel well repaid by the compliments they receive when they present an Easter table with fancy touches.

The pineapple Refrigerator Cake pictured today is best made 24 hours in advance and refrigerated, of course. If a ribbon garnish is used, and this is not necessary, green or gold should be chosen. The whipped cream edging that demands a pastry tube may be omitted.

The decorated eggs may serve as place cards and if they are to have a practical purpose they should be shell-ed and eaten for supper. They should not be preserved too long for reasons that mother knows best. Perhaps they will supply an ingredient for a salad.

Refrigerator Cake
24 lady fingers
2 cans (1 pound, 41 ounces each) crushed pineapple, drained
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 teaspoon ground ginger
2 cups heavy cream
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Ground nutmeg for garnish
Line bottom and sides of an 8 inch spring form pan with 12 lady fingers, reserving the rest for later use.

Combine pineapple and spices. Whip cream until stiff and add confectioners' sugar and vanilla extract.

Spread half the pineapple mixture over bottom of pan lined with lady fingers. Top with half the whipped cream. Add another layer of each—lady fingers, pineapple mixture and whipped cream.

Refrigerate overnight or several hours. Just before serving, remove sides from the spring form, place on a serving plate and garnish with a sprinkling of ground nutmeg.

Fancy Easter Eggs
Boil eggs. When hard, cool a few minutes before covering with cold water. This prevents cracked shells. Drain and decorate with water paint or with decals, or strips of colored paper.

Homers by Aaron, Crandall Propel Braves to 8-4 Win

Winner Bob Hartman Allows Dodgers 6 Hits in 6 Frames

Vero Beach, Fla. — Del Crandall's 3-run homer and a 2-run swat from Henry Aaron propelled the Milwaukee Braves to an 8-4 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in an exhibition baseball game Wednesday.

Crandall collected his homer in the second inning and Aaron got his in the seventh. It was the second triumph in a row for Milwaukee after dropping five straight.

The Braves and St. Louis were scheduled for a meeting at Bradenton, Fla., today.

Rookie Bob Hartman of the Braves, a home product from Kenosha, was the winner of the contest. Hartman released only six hits before Joey Jay entered in the seventh to replace him.

Jay gave up two hits that gave the Dodgers a run in the seventh. He walked Joe Pignatano, gave a pinch hit to Jim Gentile and Don Demeter got a scoring single. He had the Dodgers out in order in the eighth and ninth.

Hartman, off to a shaky start, didn't allow a single Los Angeles player to arrive at second base safely after Gil Hodges hit a three-run homer.

Crandall's homer, his second this spring, sent home Wes Covington and Frank Torre. Covington had walked and Torre had singled.

Johnny Podres was tagged with the loss for Los Angeles. Podres gave up seven hits, Clem Labine arrived in the sixth to release four more and Bill Harris let go of three more in the eighth for a total of 14.

Moore Signs For Fight With Durelle

Rematch of Thriller Set for July 15 In Montreal Park

Montreal — O'P Archie Moore still wants to fight "Sugar" Ray Robinson but he's signed for a rematch of his exciting light heavyweight title bout with Yvon Durelle because "a bird in the hand is worth 20 in the bush."

"My ultimate aim is to fight Robinson," said Moore after his agreement to the Durelle rematch was announced by promoter Eddie Quinn. "The only thing is Robinson (the middleweight champion) did all the negotiating. I didn't do any and I didn't authorize anyone to negotiate for me. A bird in the hand is worth 20 in the bush."

Televised Nationally

Quinn, who promoted the thrilling first Moore-Durelle tussle last Dec. 10 in the Montreal forum, said the rematch would be held July 15 in the Montreal Royals' baseball park, which seats about 28,000 for boxing. The bout will be televised nationally in the United States by ABC as part of its Wednesday night series.

Moore reportedly has been guaranteed $175,000 or 40 percent of the gate estimated at $200,000 plus an expected additional $100,000 television and radio fees. Durelle has been guaranteed $15,000 or 20 percent.

Moore was floored four times before rallying to stop Durelle, of Baie Ste. Anne, N. B., in the eleventh round of the first bout.

Appleton LL Slates Orientation Meeting

An orientation meeting for parents of youngsters who plan to compete in the Appleton Little League has been set for the night of April 21 in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall.

Official Little League movies will be shown to explain the program to parents. Registration of youngsters will be the following Saturday.

About 50 persons attended a Little League planning session Tuesday night at the Harold Grishaber residence.

Two sponsors are still being sought to make an 8-team league with two divisions. Sponsors in the fold thus far are: VFV, South Side Athletic club, Badger Highway, Appleton Post-Crescent, North Side Advancement association and Appleton Coated Paper-Fox River Knitting company.

The Little League will divide Appleton into Eastern and Western sections, with Oneida street being the dividing line, for purposes of forming divisions. The Eastern division games are set for the SSAC diamond with the Western division contests planned for Linwood park.

Tryouts will be held the first part of May with separate tryouts held by age groups. Any boy who has not reached his thirteenth birthday by Aug. 1, 1959, is eligible for the Little League.

Names of prospective managers were taken at Tuesday night's meeting but more are sought. Anyone interested in serving as a manager or assistant manager should contact either League President Frank Warner or Director Bob DeNoble.

Each team will have one manager and two assistants, if possible.

Nats Defeat Celts, Even NBA Playoff

Attention in the National Basketball association's division playoffs swings back to the west tonight as Minneapolis entertains St. Louis in an attempt to square their series at two games apiece.

The east, its timetable a day ahead, already is even at 2-2 after Syracuse's 119-107 victory over Boston Wednesday night. It was the seventh time in seven games that the home team had won.

Balanced scoring did the job for Syracuse, with Dolph Schayes hitting 28 points, Larry Costello 26, Hal Greer 21 and George Yardley 18. The Celts' Frank Ramsey scored 29.

102-Man Terror Track Squad Drills for April 11 Opener

Six Lettermen, Others Taking Time Trials

BY MIKE DREW Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Though the date when they can start regularly performing their duties in a more natural habitat (outdoors) is currently strictly a matter of conjecture, Appleton High school trackmen are throwing themselves into indoor workouts with gusto these days.

The Terrors open their 1959 season two weeks from Saturday (April 11) in the Madison West Relays. That indoor meet is followed by an ambitious outdoor slate of five (or more) dual affairs, the Fox River Valley conference meet, conference relays and the sectional meet.

The first definite outdoor engagement is April 24 at Fond du Lac. Terror Coach

AHS Track Slate

April 11—at Madison West relays.
April 24—at Fond du Lac.
April 28—Sheboygan Central.

May 15—FRVC meet (at Fond du Lac).
May 22—Sectional (at Green Bay East).
May 25—FRVC relays (at Green Bay East).
May 30—State meet.

Ray Kinziger says meets with Sheboygan North and Neenah might be held before then if weather permits.

Six Lettermen

About 102 young men are on the Appleton High roster but only six of them are lettermen. Monogrammed returnees include Co-Captains Bob Roemer and Don Loker, Dennis Tank, Tom M. Verkuilen, Bob Fritz and Mike Franke.

Loker is the state and FRVC mile champion and the school record-holder. Tank is the standard-owner in the pole vault. Roemer, a quarter-miler last year, may be switched to the half mile this spring. Verkuilen is a pole vaulter, Fritz a half miler and Franke a dash man.

The pole vault and distance runs look like Appleton strong points, the weight events may be problems.

Fifty of the club's current candidates are sophomores and Kinziger says the big contingent looks qualitatively good. "However, it's still quite early to tell about that," he asserts.

Time Trials

The Terrors' first full-scale time trials were slated for today and Friday in Lawrence college's Alexander gymnasium. Both Lawrence and AHS are in spring vacation, making the gym available for 9 a.m. Terror workouts each day.

Practice sessions thus far have been primarily sessions of calisthenics and weightlifting in the gym. The exercise sessions have been long—about 30 minutes each night.

Brian London Says He'll Defy British Board and Fight Floyd Patterson

U. S. Boxing Officials Make Cautious Statements in New Boxing Rhubarb

Blackpool, England —

Britain's biggest boxing row in years flared today with a British heavyweight hurling defiance at officials who forbade him to fight America's world king Floyd Patterson.

The country's boxing bosses—the British Board of Boxing Control—banned Brian London from meeting Patterson for the world title in Las Vegas, Nev., April 21.

They claimed the bout would not be in the best interests of British boxing.

London promptly announced he would go ahead with the bout anyway.

"I'll Risk Suspension" "I've got a big pay day coming ($75,000) and a chance to win the world title," the pugnaious, 24-year-old Briton said. "I'll risk suspension at home for that."

The BBBC said London probably will lose his license to fight in Britain if he defies them.

"It is now up to American authorities to decide whether they will permit an unauthorized British boxer to fight money — $140,000.

Patterson," said BBBC President J. Onslow Fane.

U. S. boxing bigwigs appear ready to go along with London, although their statements were cautious.

Dr. Ward Wylie, president of the National Boxing association, said: "The NBA will recognize any logical contender."

Observed national boxing commissioner Abe Greene: "We have a very friendly arrangement and understanding with the BBBC but we would want to know more about the circumstances which would prompt such a preemptory stand before we would concur."

Two members of the Nevada Boxing commission also said they would permit the fight "unless we get a request from the BBBC giving a good reason for the ban and a transcript of the hearing at which he was banned."

The controversy stems from London's last fight, against Howard Cooper.

Cooper used a jabbing left to take away London's British title. London was made to look like a novice as he plodded smack into the nagging lefts of Cooper.

Experts argue Cooper should be the man tackling Patterson but Cooper lost his chance by asking for too much money — $140,000.

Pre-Season Fete Set April 26

Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, an all-time New York Yankee pitching great, will be the featured speaker at the Fox Cities Foxes second annual pre-season baseball banquet Sunday, April 26, in the Appleton Elks club.

Gomez, now a member of the Wilson Sporting Goods company's advisory staff, is the second big name acquired for a "Welcome Foxes" fete. Last year, National League President Warren Giles addressed the banquet.

2 Days Before Season The banquet, which is scheduled two days before the Foxes open the Three-I league season at Lincoln, Neb., will begin at 6:30 p.m. Details on banquet tickets will be announced shortly, according to Foxes Business Manager Bob Willis.

Gomez, whose on-the-field antics often amused and confused, has won considerable popularity with his wit—which has Irish and Spanish origins.

In the 12 years (1931-42), he pitched for the Yanks, Gomez helped the Bronx Bombers to seven pennants and six World Series titles. His lifetime major league record was 189 wins, 102 losses. "Lefty" was a 20-game winner four times.

In Gomez' best season (1934), he had a 26-5 record and led the American league in shutouts, strikeouts, complete games, innings pitched, wins and percentage.

Gomez achieved a perfect World Series record (6-0) and was 3-1 in All-Star game com-

Anderson Turns in Good Performance

Cub Righthander Stops Indians; Redlegs Break Losing Streak

By The Associated Press
The Chicago Cubs seem to have turned up a good pitcher in a raw-boned right-hander, Bob Anderson.
He went nine innings when he whipped San Francisco on a strong 4-hitter last Friday and came back Wednesday with a fine 7-inning performance.
The 6-4, 200-pound Anderson permitted only two earned runs and six hits before giving way to fellow rookie Johnny Buzhardt, who nailed down the Cubs' 6-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians at Tucson.

Power Helps

Anderson, now 23, has been kicking around in the Cubs' system for five years since they signed him as a teenager out of East Chicago, Ind. He worked for Cedar Rapids, Des Moines, Los Angeles, Portland and Fort Worth in the minors before moving up to post a 3-3 record with the parent Cubs late last season.

The Cub power helped him much Wednesday as Lee Walls, Earl Averill and Bobby Thomson chipped in with home runs off Cleveland loser Dick Stigman. "Rocky" Colavito caught one of Anderson's

The Babe and I Babe's Salary Battles With Ruppert And Ed Barrow Were Momentous

BY MRS. BABE RUTH
With Bill Stearns

The Babe's salary battles with Colonel Ruppert were frequent, acrimonious and covered in the press with detail worthy of history-making events.

There was a strong feeling that these battles were publicity stunts. They were anything but. Christy Walsh, and I, and some of Babe's financially aware friends had made him understand that "The House that Ruth Built"

Ed, tough as a hickory nut, wise in the knowledge that baseball law made Ruth helpless in all salary fights, was always set against big salaries for Babe. Ed's friends said Barrow was without rank in the matter. He was merely doing his job, which was to run the Yankees as economically as possible.

Hated Each Other

Babe felt Barrow's attitude was personal. They had fought in Boston and again in New York. They were bitter fights and the men hated each other.

Yet, in 1948, when the Babe made his last appearance in "The House that Ruth Built" on Babe Ruth day, he tottered over to embrace his ancient enemy, Barrow, in his 70s but far stronger and healthier than Babe, received and returned the embrace as it was given—with honesty and enthusiasm.

When Ruppert was dying in 1939, he sent for the Babe. The more the sports page jibes—and he couldn't—he was further beset by editorials in the staidest of newspapers.

The feud with Barrow

The New York Times said: "If the New York club paid Ruth $100,000 a year for life it would not cut too heavily into the millions he drew to its ball park. If all the leagues contributed to such a pension they would be no more than acknowledging a debt far beyond payment."

The Babe's demands embarrassed the Colonel, and the Colonel's refusals infuriated the Babe. But the Babe always felt that the basic problem he faced in dealing with Ruppert was Ed Barrow.

Ed, tough as a hickory nut, wise in the knowledge that baseball law made Ruth helpless in all salary fights, was always set against big salaries for Babe. Ed's friends said Barrow was without rank in the matter. He was merely doing his job, which was to run the Yankees as economically as possible.

Over the Barrel

When he talked of money it might have bored him, but when he thought he was being robbed he got mad. And his anger was never decreased by the cold knowledge that the Yankees had him over a barrel. He took what they offered or stayed out of baseball.

Colonel Ruppert hated these quarrels. He was rich, aristocratic, autocratic and rather baffled that a right fielder who worked two hours a day was worth more than a brewmaster who worked all day.

One Up on Hoover

In the course of negotiating the 1932 contract, the Colonel said, "Ruth, last year you made more money than President Herbert Hoover."

The Babe's reply was brief: "I had a better year in '31 than Hoover had."

Most of all, Ruppert hated the publicity these contract battles provoked. The sports writers were often bitterly caustic about some of the Babe's failings, but whether they liked him personally or not they were virtually unanimous in his defense in contract squabbles.

In 1927, W. O. McGeehan expressed an opinion in his New York Herald-Tribune column that was to be echoed by writers for years to come. McGeehan wrote: "The Colonel was willing to take the chance of granting the Babe a salary of $70,000 a year."

The Colonel might have been moved to do this by his prospective customers who, when checked in a straw poll, agreed that Ruth should receive anywhere from $100,000 to $200,000 a year.

And if the Colonel could ig-

Four County Loop Nines Are 'Ready'

Four teams indicated they are "ready to go" when the Outagamie County Baseball league holds an exploratory meeting Wednesday night in Nichols.

Officials are seeking to re-activate the league, which has been in suspension for two years.

Representatives of Black Creek, Lanstad, Nichols and Hofa Park reported their teams are set, according to H. J. "Kelly" Weller, league president.

Shoeton, Bonduel and Navarro officials said they weren't ready to make a decision since no organizational meeting had been held as yet. The Van's Valley nine was unable to have a representative at the first meeting.

The final decision on 1959 league operation and probable alignment is expected to be made next Wednesday night in an organizational meeting at Lanstad, Weller said.

Braves Seek Ed Fitzgerald From Senators

Bavasi Won't Deal Zimmer, William To Milwaukee

Vero Beach, Fla. — (U—) General Manager Emil "Buz-zie" Bavasi of the Los Angeles Dodgers said Wednesday he would not trade either Junior Gilliam or Don Zimmer to the Milwaukee Braves, who would like one of the veteran infielders to solve their second base problem.

"I'd be silly to trade anybody to the Braves," Bavasi said. "We're trying to catch them, not strengthen them."

He said further that the Braves were the team to beat again this year even without an established second baseman in their lineup.

"They had key men hurt last year and out of action and still won by eight games," Bavasi said. "With their power and pitching you've got to pick them again."

Very Interested

Meanwhile, the executive vice president of the Braves, "Birdie" Tebbetts, said he was very much interested in obtaining catcher Eddie Fitzgerald before the season opens.

"Yes, Fitzgerald is the man we're after," said Tebbetts. "His purchase has been held up because Clint Courtney is lost to them for several weeks with a hairline leg fracture. But that still leaves them with three catchers."

Badger Boxers On Jaunt West

Madison — (U—) The University of Wisconsin boxing team headed west today for dual meets and participation in the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament.

Coach Vern Woodward and nine boxers made up the group.

The Badgers meet San Jose State Saturday night, California Poly Monday and then compete in the tourney at Reno, Nev. April 2-4.

Bruton's Better Now Billy Once Wondered If He'd Play Again

Bradenton, Fla. — (U—) A year ago Billy Bruton stood on the porch of the Milwaukee Braves' clubhouse here, wondering if he'd be able to play again.

Now the lean outfielder sat on that same porch, relaxing with a cigaret and talking of last season, when he bounced back from a knee injury to become a World Series hero. Bruton's knee is now back to near normal.

A year ago, he was hobbled by a bad right knee, still weak from an operation to patch up the damage of a fielding crash with Felix Mantilla in midseason of 1957.

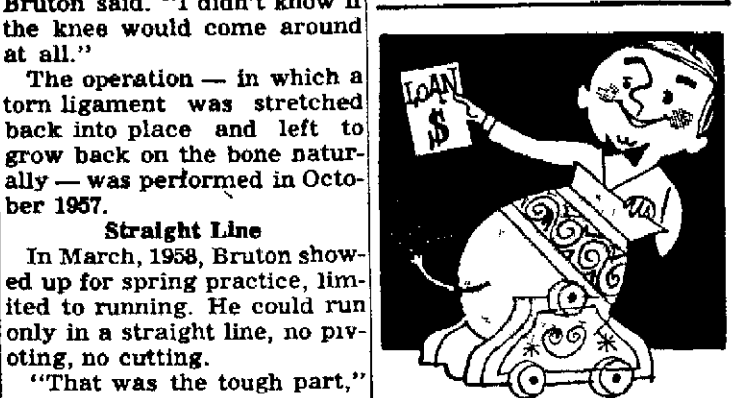

"I was worried plenty," Bruton said. "I didn't know if the knee would come around at all."

The operation — in which a torn ligament was stretched back into place and left to grow back on the bone naturally — was performed in October 1957.

Straight Line

In March, 1958, Bruton showed up for spring practice, limited to running. He could run only in a straight line, no pivoting, no cutting.

"That was the tough part," he said. "Just to keep off the leg. I couldn't hit, I couldn't field. I couldn't even get into Gomez was born Nov. 26, 1910, in Rodeo, Calif. He married Broadway star June O'Dea in 1933. They have a family of four children.

At 18 Gomez broke into organized baseball with Salt Lake City of the Utah-Idaho league. The next year, 1929, Gomez won 18 and lost 11 with the San Francisco Seals and was sold to the Yanks for $35,000.

Gomez has this to say about his first trial with the Yanks in the spring of '30: "As soon as I got there, I was hit in the mouth with a line drive and sent to St. Paul." He rejoined the Yanks to stay in '31.

After leaving the Yanks, "Lefty" played briefly for the Boston Braves and Washington. He re-joined in '43. For the next three years, Gomez was recreation director for the Norden Bomb Sight company. Tampa, Fla. —(UP)—Hank Greenberg, now Chicago White Sox official, says he is convinced "that getting a boy to the majors is a four or five-year project." If that's the case, it looks bad for outfielder John Callison. He jumped from Bakersfield, Calif. in 1957 to Indianapolis last year, where he hit 29 homers.

Maybe Greenberg was thinking of somebody else. Callison has been a key figure in Manager Al Lopez' outfield plans this season. So far, the 20-year-old Callison is hitting only .184 but leads the club in runs batted in with nine.

'Balance of Power'

Weak Pitching May Keep Redlegs
From Finishing in First Division

BY JOE REICHLER

Tampa, Fla. —(UP)—The Cincinnati Reds are being tabbed as the dark horse of the National league but that is bringing little solace to Manager Mayo Smith and General Manager Gabe Paul. They realize that if something isn't done soon about the plight of their pitching staff, the Reds will be fortunate to finish in the first division.

Ask Smith to evaluate his club and he gives you several stock replies. He leaves it up to you to interpret them.

Hard to Say

"It's hard to say whether the club is good, mediocre or bad at this point because we don't know about the pitching."

"Our pitching is the key. How far we go depends upon that."

The truth of the matter is that Mayo is worried about his pitching or lack of it. He has four veteran starters in Bob Purkey (17-11), Don Newcombe (7-13), Brooks Lawrence (8-13) and southpaw Joe Nuxhall (12-11). He has a couple of good looking youngsters in lefty Jimmy O'Toole and righty Orlando Pena. O'Toole a 20-game winner at Nashville is the big hope. But Smith is afraid of the pressure.

Balance of Power

The way the staff shapes up, Pena and Hal Jeffcoat will be the end relief men, Tom Acker and Willard Schmidt will be the middle men and Bob Mabe may win the No. 5 starting role.

Cincinnati has a balance of power, achieved mainly by the acquisition of right-handed hitting slugger Frank Robinson at first, John-n-runs," said Smith, "but some-times it can be a case of feast or famine. What we're striving for is steady pitching and good balance. So far it's not as, a mediocre third basemen good, not bad, just in between."

Acquisition of Jones Makes Giants Bigger Flag Threat

BY JOE REICHLER

St. Petersburg, Fla. —(UP)—Who got the better of the St. Louis Cardinals-San Francisco Giants deal?

Only time will tell, of course, but most expert opinion in these parts today was that the trade made the Giants a definite threat for the National league pennant and materially weakened the Cards.

The deal was completed Wednesday. It was a straight player transaction sending right-handed pitcher Sam "Toothpick" Jones to the Giants in exchange for first basemen-outfielder Bill White and third basemen Ray Jablonski.

Could Win 20

"Jones could win 20 for a club with power like the Giants," Card Manager Solly Hemus admitted. "But we had to get some punch into our lineup and this was our chance."

"It's up to some of the younger pitchers to take up the slack. We now have only three starters — 'Vinegar Bend' Bizell, Larry Jackson and Ernie Broglio."

Giants' Manager Bill Rigney said in Phoenix that this was the most important deal of the club since they acquired pitcher Johnny Antonelli in 1954.

The addition of Jones makes our front line pitching solid and our second line deeper," said Rigney. "He'll be a starter. This guy can strike someone out."

The fact that White is only .25 and Jones is .34 no doubt had something to do with the Cards' thinking. Jablonski,

Is Big Winner
In 'Pro-Am'

Palm Beach, Fla. —(UP)—The touring golf pros headed north today, some to Wilmington, N. C. for a tournament there and others to Augusta, Ga., to prepare for the Masters.

They closed out their Florida tour Wednesday in the 36-hole Seminole pro-amateur. Arnold Palmer was the big winner at $2,150.

Split $1,800 Prize

Palmer had a 70 to go with his first-round 71 and split $1,800 with Mike Souchak, who had 72-69—141. But Souchak finished out of the money in the best-ball competition, while Palmer picked up $1,250.

Palmer's amateur partners were Arthur O. Wellman of Boston and Kenneth Rich of Dallas, Tex.

Sam Snead wound up with 70-73—143, good for $300.

Palmer, Snead, Hogan and Cary Middlecoff went directly to Augusta to get ready for the Masters opening April 2, but most of the others headed for Wilmington.

Eileen Hoel rapped a 519 threesome for J. C. Penney company in the latest session of Elks Women's American league bowling. One of her games was a 190. Plank Dandy (51-27) holds a 1-game league lead.

Ferne Haase shot a 509 threesome.

Jeanne Kloes blasted a 502 set for Subway Bar in the Five by Eight wheel. Ilene Deligen rattled a 195 for co-leading Howie's Bar (50-28). Ranch Bar shares first place.

Other high scores "Shirl" Rasmussen, 500, Joan Hawkins, 190.

Ila Mae Schroeder pasted a 509 for N. E. Bayer Insurance.

Triandos Recalls Homer That Did Not Count

Orioles' Catcher
Belted 30 in '58
To Tie AL Record

Miami —(UP)—Gus Triandos is the husky power guy who belted 30 home runs for Baltimore last season, tying the American league record for catchers. The homer he remembers best is one that didn't count.

"I hit it in the first inning at Detroit," he said, "but then it rained and the game was washed out. So was the home run."

That one would have put him in the record book all alone. As is, however, he isn't cramped for space. Only "Yogi" Berra has hit as many in one season among AL catchers, setting the record in 1952 and matching it in 1956. Ironically, Triandos is one of that legion of catchers who failed to budge Berra out of a job with the New York Yankees.

Best in League

"They had the best in the league," Triandos said, "yet they went out and signed catchers. There's an awful lot of us Berra sent away."

"I remember Casey Stengel saying that if the Yankees didn't have room for us to go out and make ourselves better ball players and somebody would want us—if they wanted us bad enough, he said, we'd be traded."

"That's one thing I did for the Yankees. I got them Bob Turley and Don Larsen."

Triandos, 28 and a 6-3, 215-pounder, was part of the multi-player deal that sent the Yankees the now famed right-handers in 1954.

Hit Just Two

He hit only two homers against the Yankees, neither in New York. He had a 245 batting average for '58.

One of his homers against the champs was a pip, backing up Hoyt Wilhelm's 1-0 no-hitter. It also was the record-tying thirtieth.

"I like to think I hit 30 homers because I was a better hitter," said Triandos, whose best previous total was 21 in 1956. "But the averages don't say so. I go for the home run, I'm a free-swinging. I have to be. I'm not too fast. Even if I was, I don't think I'd hit 300. Maybe I'd get more hits if

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Strictly speaking, a "requirement" is a thing required, while a "requisite" is a thing needed. One's requirements may be many, although one's requisites may be few. Thus: "A strong constitution was one of the requirements for admission to the club." "Eagerness to learn is a prime requisite for any genuine education."

Often mispronounced: Demitasse. Pronounce dehm-i-tass, accent first syllable.

Often misspelled: Flair (bent; aptitude). Flare (blaze).

Synonyms: Wit, witticism, humor, jest, jocularly, fun, drollery.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it's yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: hoydenish; having the roughness of a rude, bold girl. "Her manners are hoydenish."

Nimble Fingers Tap Rhythm, Aided by Thimbles, Tin Lid

BY CAPPY DICK

With a couple of thimbles and the tin top from a jar you can have a good time hearing out musical rhythm. The success you have depends on the nimbleness of your fingers and the kind of jar top you use.

The lid should be of tin or similar thin metal. The shallow, screw-type top is the best kind. The equipment is shown in Figure 1.

Place the thimbles on your forefinger and middle finger as shown in Figure 2. The sketches labelled A, B, C and D show how to hold the jar lid in one palm and tap it with the thimbles on the other hand.

Note the difference in the positions of the fingers in A, B, C and D. You will discover that if you change the find that by rapidly changing the jar lid as you tap it with the fingers touching the lid as the thimbles you will alter the you tap you can play simple rhythmic tunes.

The fewer the fingers touch- ing it, the more resonance there will be to each tap. clatter of a TV cowboy's horse. That's how to get different running across the screen. tones. With practice you will.

Sound is changed with the fingers.

Tourism Study Begun by UW

Final Work Awaits
Decision on New Economic Board

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Beginning steps of an exhaustive study of tourism in Wisconsin, including its economic significance and possibilities for expansion, has been started by University of Wisconsin experts.

The specialists are at work on a prospectus for the study, ordered by Gov. Gaylord Nelson. The governor may delay the actual study until action is taken on his request for an economic resources commission, which would conduct a general investigation of the economic potential of northern Wisconsin.

Even if the commission is not approved, some kind of survey will be made during the year, the governor said. Donations have been requested from the Wisconsin Alumni Research foundation, he revealed.

Wisconsin resort and travel interests have urged such a study for several years. The last study — a small one — was made nearly 10 years ago by the university.

A third plan has been suggested by Sen. Clifford Krueger, chairman of the conservation committee, acting in behalf of northern Wisconsin businessmen. Krueger has requested $25,000 in state funds to enable the University to complete the study.

Kaukauna — Dwight Bastian and Thomas Verhagen, juniors at Kaukauna High school, were elected by the faculty as Kaukauna representatives to Badger Boys' state at Ripon this summer.

The youths were selected from a list of nominees also prepared by faculty members and the trip will be sponsored by the American Legion post and Rotary club.

Bastian is secretary-treasurer of the National Forensic league, a member of the National Honor society, a member of the Latin club, serves as an editor for the school paper and for the past two years has won the American Legion Oratorical contest. After graduation he plans to attend an eastern university to major in speech.

Verhagen Background
Verhagen is treasurer of the Latin club, a member of the National Forensic league, president of the junior class and a member of the newspaper staff.

Both boys were members of the A debate squad and took part in a student congress at Milwaukee last weekend. Verhagen plans to attend St. Norbert's college to take up business administration or possibly become a mathematics teacher.

All students in American problems class took the test with the top 25 to be tested April 9 to determine the first three school winners. Although awards will not be issued until class night, the first place winner will be notified in advance to permit studying for the state-wide contest April 18.

Local winners receive awards from the Elks lodge while the top winner competes for awards ranging from $50 to $500 on the state level. Noel Diffatte, instructor, is Elks club representative in charge of the local contest.

Restrictions Lifted On Overnight Parking By Kimberly Police

Kimberly — Police have lifted the special restrictions on parking enforced during the winter.

Those people who do not have driveways or at new homes where driveways are practically impossible to park in will be allowed to keep their cars on the streets between 1 and 5 a.m.

Police said the lifting of restrictions does not apply to those persons who have adequate facilities. Also, in the event of a late snow storm, restrictions will again be in force.

Those residents who have a necessity of parking their cars on the streets overnight should contact police for permission.

Special Hours At Locks Grade

Make Up Days Lost
In Winter Storms

Combined Locks — A special schedule of school hours will go into effect Monday at the state graded school in order to make up days lost during the storms this winter, according to Wayne Hull, principal.

In addition, the Easter vacation has been shortened with school closed on Good Friday only. Classes will resume Monday morning.

The new schedule has classes starting at 8:45 a.m. each day instead of 9 a.m. The afternoon sessions will open at 12:30 p.m. instead of 1 p.m. Lower grades will be dismissed at 3:45 and upper grades at 3:55.

This schedule will be followed for three weeks in April allowing the school to make up three lost days.

Hull explained the move was necessary because 180 days of classes are required during the year and the school wants to keep on the year-end dismissal schedule that was set up at the start of the year.

Deadline Set To Apply for Absentee Ballots

Kaukauna — Registered voters wishing to cast absentee ballots in the April 7 election must file applications with Karl E. Marzahl, city clerk, by 5 p. m. April 3.

Persons planning to be out of the city April 7 may cast ballots in person at the city clerk's office until 5 p. m., the day prior to election.

Schedule Easter Sunrise Service

The hymn and prayer will be given by Mary Behnke and the scripture and offertory will be presented by Robert Trude.

Over 160 Scouts Join in 'First-Aid-O-Ree' Here

Patrols Display Skills in Effort
To Earn Ratings

Kaukauna — More than 160 Boy Scouts from the East district demonstrated skills in a "First-Aid-O-Ree" held at Kaukauna High school gym.

Twenty-four patrols participated with Troop 51 of Little Chute receiving two A ratings and one B; Troop 27, sponsored by St. Mary's, Kaukauna, had six A and two B ratings; Troop 17 of Seymour, sponsored by the American Legion, had one A and one B rating; Troop 44 of Kimberly, sponsored by Holy Name church, earned five A's; Brillion Troop 4 sponsored by the Brillion Iron Works had one A and one B; Troop 41 of Combined Locks, sponsored by the PTA had two A's and Kimberly Troop 102, sponsored by the Presbyterian church, had two A's.

Four other troops in the east district did not participate.

Different Problems
Scouts were given four first aid problems and each patrol carried out the necessary activity in reporting the accident and caring for the victims.

One of the simulated accidents was a scout scalded who fell and injured his head. A second had scouts find a man on a skating pond with a broken arm and frozen feet.

A third problem involved an automobile accident with two people receiving multiple injuries. The fourth called for treatment of a man who had suffered hand injuries and nearly drowned in a motor boat accident.

In each case case, scouts had to report the accidents to a "doctor." Acting as doctors for the event were Explorer scouts, James Spaude, Seymour; John Cumicek, Seymour; Jim Wildenberg, Little Chute, and Robert A. Hella, Combined Locks.

Judges On Hand
A judge was with each patrol to record the abilities of scouts as they performed. Judges were furnished by volunteer fire units of Kimberly.

Intricate Operation

Day He 'Died' Past, Patient Lauds Surgery to Correct Heart Defect

BY BETTY KILICH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Because a man's heart was tampered with—touched by knowing hands and probed by delicate instruments—he can look forward to a healthy, active old age.

Because he took preventative action and had a hole in his heart corrected (a condition which gave him no trouble but could have caused physical disabling in coming years,) he is fairly well assured of a trouble-free future.

Now recuperating in his home at 12 Embrey court, John E. Powers, Outagamie county agricultural agent, is the latest Fox Cities resident to have undergone intricate heart surgery at University hospital in Madison. And he's the operation's best public relations man—"Anyone who's considering the surgery should go ahead with it and not worry about it," he declares.

Much Thought
"My wife and I thought about it a lot before consenting to surgery but the doctors build up so much confidence. You can't help but have confidence in them. There's no fear connected with the surgery and I can't recommend it enough for those needing it."

Powers knew all his life he had an enlarged heart but, because it never caused him trouble or curtailed any of his activities, he never paid much attention to it. However, he also knew the condition might cause him serious trouble in old age.

Two years ago his Appleton physician talked to him about the situation and encouraged Powers to go to Madison to speak with several of the nation's top heart surgeons working there.

Now Recovering From an intricate operation correcting a congenital heart defect, Jack Powers, Outagamie county agent, is shown reading to three of his boys. With their father are Greg, on the floor, and twins, Blaine and Dane. Powers is recuperating at his home at 12 Embrey court.

Powers went, learned more about the operation, heard the mortality rate has been reduced to about 1 per cent, listened to words of praise from others who underwent the surgery and finally decided to go ahead with what turned out to be an operation lasting an entire day and utilizing a 20-member team of highly trained personnel.

First Step
The first step, once the decision to proceed was reached, was a cardiac catheterization, the development of which has done much to assure the success of the operation.

During the procedure, an extremely fine plastic tube is inserted into the arm, run up through a vein until it reaches the heart. From this, the physicians can gather data what goes on in the heart and what has to be corrected.

In Powers' case, it was learned there was an opening between the two auricles (upper chambers of the heart) allowing the blood from the left and right sides to mix. In a correctly functioning heart, the blood should not mix.

The operation, performed many months after the catheterization process, closed the abnormal opening, preventing the blood from mixing.

Room of Bottles
In the operating room from early morning until about 5:30 p.m., Powers first remembrance of his post-surgery life was waking up in a room full of bottles—bottles for food, bottles for blood and bottles for medicine.

Behind him was the day he "died," for his heart was stopped while the skillful hands of the surgeon repaired the organ.

When his heart was stopped, his Appleton physician who observed the operation explains, Powers was put onto a heart-lung machine, an apparatus which allows the blood to by-pass the heart and lungs, yet keeps it circulating in other parts of the body.

This segment of the operation alone utilized the blood of 20 donors, blood which was collected by Appleton's Community Blood center and flown to Madison.

About 20 highly-trained medical men, nurses and technicians were present during the entire process, the Appleton physician reports, to make sure that all parts of the body were functioning as they should.

Meanwhile, an electric wire was inserted into the wall of the heart and left there for several days. This was to stimulate the organ should, for some reason, it begin to fail.

"This is an extremely meticulous and carefully watched procedure," the Appleton doctor relates. "All fields cooperate—the surgeon, other heart specialists, anaesthetists, physiologist and all the technical people operating and watching the machines. It's beautiful and amazing to watch."

Although he's still in the recuperation stage—Powers was granted a 6-month leave of absence from his county post—the patient is able to walk around his home but must restrict himself to a quiet, easy life until he gets his final checkup and an okay to go ahead full speed.

"It was my wife who suffered most," Powers goes on. "She's the one who had to wait during the entire operation and who watched me during those first groggy days. 'As for me, I'd go through it again. And I'd certainly encourage anyone who's thinking about it to go ahead—that's the same type of encouragement we got from others in this area who've gone through this type of surgery and it played a big part in our decision.'"
